HOOVER STANDS BY FARM BOARD IN GRAIN POLICY

Not to Interfere in Program Decided by Members.

RECESS APPOINTMENT GIVEN JUDGE NORDBYE

Fight on Confirmation Is Assured; Watson Called to White House.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

President Hoover will not interfere with the Federal Farm Board in its decision to abandon its policy of buying wheat in order to boost prices and stabilize the 1931 market, it was made known at the White House yesterday.

The President, it was said, feels that the Farm Board is well able to define and to defend its policies, just as the Shipping Board and the Interstate Commerce Commission are able to define and defend theirs.

The farm question was the first thing the President took up when he got back to his desk, following his ten-day cruise in the Caribbean.

Watson Asked to Breakfast.

In the course of the day he made a recess appointment that promises to kick up a row in the Senate next December, held a 30-minute conference with Vice President Curtis, and asked Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader of the Senate, to have breakfast with him this morning.

The recess appointment was that of Gunnar H. Nordbye for a Federal judgeship in Minnesota. Opposition to Mr. Nordbye had been voiced by Senator Thomas D. Schall (Republican), of Minnesota, who insisted that it was his prerogative to name the appointee.

The Senate probably will vote on confirmation of Nordbye in December, and Senator Schall has announced that he will wage a fight at that time. In the meantime Judge Nordbye will have to serve without pay.

Too Early, Says Curtis.

As he was leaving the White House yesterday, Vice President Curtis gave the impression that he had not yet decided what he will do in 1932. There have been reports that he will not seek a second term as Vice President; that, instead, he will attempt to win back his seat in the Senate. Yesterday he said that he had not yet made any plans for 1932.

"It is too early to talk about such things," he said.

Earlier in the day, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley said that he stood ready to support Vice President Curtis for renomination in 1932 if the Kansan wants another term then. He pointed out that he had supported him on two other occasions, in 1924 and in 1928.

Secretary Hurley made the statement in connection with reports that he himself might be a candidate for the Vice Presidency. In the event that Mr. Curtis should decide to try and win back his seat in the Senate, Secretary Hurley undoubtedly would be a strong contender for the Vice Presidential nomination.

Grave Issues Looming.

When President Hoover and Majority Leader Watson get together at the breakfast table this morning, they are expected to talk about a great many matters, including the wheat situation, the $700,000,000 Treasury deficit and the state of the Republican party.

Last year the Federal Farm Board purchased something like 200,000,000 bushels of wheat, and the result was that the price was pegged 16 to 20

GOOD-WILL ESSAYS DUE BY NOON TODAY

Teachers at Once to Grade Papers Submitted for Flag Trip Abroad.

Today marks the end of the first stage in the essay contest for the good-will trip to England and France sponsored by the United States Flag Association with the cooperation of The Washington Post.

Every essay entered in the contest must be in the hands of the contestant's teacher by noon today, and on the grading of these essays, coupled with the characteristics of the student will depend the selection of the two entrants from each school for the preliminary test which is to be held Saturday, April 11, at the Franklin School Building. Teachers who mark the essays will rate the students on school citizenship, manifest intelligence, apparent physical condition, personality and qualities of leadership, these having a rating of 50 as compared to a rating of 50 for the essay, and the boy and girl from each school having the highest marks win.

But the essayists are not through. It is manifestly a hard task to grade the large number of papers that will be received today, and it is well for every entrant to be preparing for possible participation in the preliminary test, as every student has an equal chance to win and the one best prepared for the preliminary test stands the best chance of getting into the finals.

The preliminary test will consist of two parts. A written examination on the flag of the United States and American history, ideals and institutions will be held in the forenoon. In the afternoon there will be a quiz intended to test the general intelligence of the contestant.

It is obvious that the student well prepared will fare better in the preliminary test, if among those selected, than the one who has made no preparation. School teachers are authorized to help students in this respect

Sunday Nail Driver Gets Term in Jail

Because he drove nails into his home on Sunday in violation of an ancient Maryland blue law and refuses to pay a $5 fine imposed for the violation, Charles W. Ballenger, Glen Echo Park, Md., plumber, last night entered the Montgomery County Jail at Rockville for a five-day sojourn.

Judge Robert B. Peter declined to consider an appeal from a conviction in the county police court when State's Attorney Stedman Prescott moved for dismissal of the appeal on the ground that the sum involved was too small to warrant appeal action. Although defense attorneys asked action on the appeal regardless of the amount involved, the judge declared that he had no jurisdiction under State law and dismissed the appeal.

Mr. Ballenger was arrested February 1, 1931, by Montgomery County Policeman Joseph Oldfield on charges of violating the law which prohibits driving nails on Sunday. He was making some minor repairs to his house. The arrest was not made upon the policeman's own initiative but in response to complaints of neighbors.

When arraigned in Montgomery County Police Court at Rockville Mr. Ballenger told Judge Charles W.

Baby Born in Airplane Flying at 4,000 Feet

The Pas, Manitoba, March 30 (A.P.).—Master Miller came down here out of the sky today, possibly the first child born unexpectedly in an airplane in full flight.

The plane started here from Mile 214. Mrs. Alex Miller was being rushed to a hospital by Flight Lieut. A. L. McPhee, of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Fifteen minutes after the take-off her son made his appearance in a cabin monoplane at a height of 4,000 feet. Mother and child were reported doing well.

GANDHI TRUCE WINS VOTE OF DELEGATES

India's Representatives to London Conference Back Mahatma Solidly.

Karachi, India, March 30 (A.P.).—Despite fierce opposition from the extremist wing, Mahatma Gandhi's truce with Viceroy Irwin was approved today by unanimous vote of delegates to the All-India Congress.

After a series of fiery speeches, Gandhi himself took the stand to support passage of the resolution and when he finished the gathering broke into resounding cheers. There was "not a single dissenting vote when President Vallabhai Patel put the question."

"Do not accept this truce merely because I made it," Gandhi said. "You are free to reject it and appoint another working committee. I give you no promise I will bring back complete independence from the second round-table conference, but I do give you my pledge I will not bring back greater bondage than exists in India today."

The oppositionists declared in effect that the Delhi pact was inadequate in that it represented victory for England rather than for the Nationalists and that it was not in conformity with the Lahore resolution declaring for outright independence.

"Despite the brave words in the resolution," one leader said, "you can not go to the London conference and still tell the world you are for complete independence. There is not a ghost of a chance that the proposals embodied in the resolution will be ac-

12,000 BOWIE FANS WITNESS CHARITY CARD

Opening Day's Program May Net $50,000 for Unemployed.

SPRINT FEATURE WON BY SERGT. DONALDSON

Riddle 3-Year-Old Romps to 5-Length Victory Over Civollag.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

The return of racing to Bowie yesterday, marking the beginning of the Eastern racing season, and carrying with it the appeal of the aid for the unemployed, caused more than 12,000 people to brave the rigors of a lion-like March to see a first-class program of their favorite sport run over a heavy track, and suffer the unpleasantness of a chilling wind that became colder as the day went on.

The Opportunity Purse, which featured the card, run as the fourth race, proved to be the most one-sided affair of the day, when the Glen Riddle Farm's 3-year-old colt, Sergt. Donaldson, took the bits between his teeth and cantered from the 7-furlong chute to the wire eight lengths in front of his field under restraint.

Gilded Arch Scores.

The preparedness of the horses of the Glen Riddle stable had been shown in the third race when the filly Hasten, grouped in the field, had caught the favorite, Gilded Arch, at the stretch turn, and appeared to have the race won, when Gilded Arch, getting on the outside where the going was better, regained his lead and won. But Hasten, 3-year-old daughter of Carlaris, showed her metal, and the fitness of the "Man o' War" stable.

In the feature race, Sergt. Donaldson, ridden by R. Fisher, so far outclassed his field that most of the other horses gave up before coming into the stretch. Civollag straggled in second, a length in front of John Barton, which was third. There were five starters. Weatherproof having been withdrawn. The time was 1:28 1-5. The winner was an odds-on favorite.

The Bowie management expected to collect $50,000 for the unemployed of Maryland on the day's racing, and the amount may exceed that figure when the returns from the restaurants, the donations of employes and horsemen and the mutuels profits have been all computed.

25 In Inaugural Today.

The regular meeting begins today, featured by the $5,000 Inaugural Handicap, at 7 furlongs, and has attracted the surprisingly large field of 25 horses.

The first race was for 2-year-olds, most of which were making their first start under colors, and a first-starter won it when the Campfire filly, of the Dorwood Stable, Sky Alight, under a strong finish by A. Robertson got the decision by a head from F. Camarata's White Toes. Jalpur, the favorite, which had led all the way to the middle of the stretch, was third. A sidelight on the spirit of charity followed the running of this race, when Robertson, the winning jockey, was suspended for three days by Starter James Milton, when the jockey informed that he was riding gratis, turning his fees over to the charity fund, and the suspension was revoked. Robertson also rode the winner of the second event, Sky Alight paid $9.20.

G. C. Winfrey scored in the second race with the consistent plater, Tony Joe, which had figured in three Miami "killings." Tony Joe led all the way and was much the best of the large field, and he had the advantage of a

U. S. DISSOLUTION SUIT CHARGES PRICE-FIXING BY CANE SUGAR TRUST

Injunction Asked Against 50 Companies and Individuals.

EXTENSIVE INQUIRY FOLLOWED BY ACTION

Result in Matter to Affect Directly Every Household in Nation.

(United Press.)

A conspiracy of all cane-sugar refiners to fix "oppressive" prices on the Nation's sugar was charged by the Government yesterday in an antitrust suit.

The suit, filed in New York District Court by direction of Attorney General Mitchell, seeks dissolution of the sugar institute, organized in 1928, and an injunction against 50 corporations, firms and individuals who refine sugar obtained from Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines "at abnormally low prices."

But, the suit charges, the prices charged by the refiners are fixed at a high rate "and the growers and producers of raw sugar have received no benefit from the increased prices exacted." The consuming public, as a result, has been taxed "large sums in excess of what it otherwise would have paid for sugar."

Restriction is Charged.

The cane-sugar refiners, producing 85 per cent of the sugar used in the United States, were further charged by the Government with inducing beet-sugar refiners, producing the other 15 per cent, to restrict their competitive activities. Then, according to the Government, the cane-sugar refiners kept their prices uniformly 20 cents a hundredweight higher than the price of beet sugar.

The beet-sugar refiners were not made defendants in this suit.

The suit is one of the most important, in the commodity affected and in the size of the industry, of any filed under the Sherman antitrust law in recent years. Any reduction which might be brought about by the action would affect directly every household in the Nation.

Extensive Inquiry Made.

The permanent injunction asked would forbid the 50 cane-sugar refiners from maintaining the "comprehensive scheme designed to fix oppressive and uniform prices" as charged by the Government.

Filing of the suit resulted from extensive investigations by the Federal Trade Commission and the Justice Department in the last two years, starting shortly after the sugar institute was founded. Many other leading industries have "trade associations" of this nature, but as far as the Government knows, few of them have been charged with price-fixing such as is charged here.

A brief code outlining some activities of the institute was submitted to the Justice Department in 1929, but the department reserved liberty of action without ruling on legality of the practices. Department officials said yesterday most of the activities charged in the suit were not disclosed in the code submitted.

Medalie Files Suit.

United States Attorney George Z. Medalie filed the suit on behalf of the Government, but the department's antitrust experts, headed by John Lord O'Brian, probably will prosecute it when a hearing is set.

The United States consumes one-fourth of the world production, and Census Bureau figures show that cane sugar production is more than 5,000,000 tons—half a billion dollars a year. Prices of refined sugar, according to Commerce Department experts, usually range from 1 to 1½ cents a pound above raw sugar.

Refined cane sugar, after reaching a high mark of more than 12 cents a pound shortly after the war, has ranged around 5 cents a pound wholesale in recent years.

U. S. Charges Conspiracy.

The Government's petition went beyond mere price-fixing, alleging a conspiracy in the following words: "Defendants have agreed to establish and maintain and pursuant thereto have concertedly established and maintained enhanced, uniform, and noncompetitive prices; uniform noncompetitive, onerous and oppressive terms, discounts, conditions, concessions, and extra charges; and uniform, artificial, and noncompetitive

New Wage Law to Irk U. S. Project Bidders

Firms Awarded Work After Expecting Cheap Labor Face Probability of Digging Into Own Pockets to Pay Standard Scale.

By J. B. McDONNELL.

Contractors who win Government construction jobs with low bids computed on the basis of cheap wages will be left holding the bag when they begin work, and their employes will be paid the standard wages prevailing in Washington or wherever else the work is being done, Department of Labor officials made clear yesterday.

The new standard wage law, signed by President Hoover on March 3, becomes effective 30 days from that date, but it does not provide for advance determination by any governmental agency of what shall be the standard local wage for various classes of work.

The Secretary of Labor is the final judge of what wage is the standard prevailing here or elsewhere whenever the question is brought into dispute, and contractors who base their bids on a low wage scale will have to foot the bill for higher wages, officials said.

Under the law Government officials are required to award contracts to the lowest responsible bidder. What wage scale is contemplated by the bidder is of no concern of the Government until the contract has been let and work begun. Then if a low wage is paid employes the Government contracting officer is charged with responsibility to require that the standard wage be paid.

Scores of inquiries have been received by the Labor Department and other Government bureaus and de-

OIL IMPORT LIMIT MADE UNANIMOUS

Standard of Indiana Falls in Line With Other Big Companies.

(Associated Press.)

The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana will put into effect immediately a substantial reduction not only of petroleum imports to the United States but of productnon at its Venezuelan wells.

This was made known yesterday by Secretary Wilbur, just back from the Caribbean trip with President Hoover. The actual amount to be curtailed was not given, but it was said to be proportionate to the slashes announced by Standard Oil of New Jersey, the Dutch Shell Co., and the Gulf interests.

Significance of the Indiana company's action lay in that it was the last large importer to enter the limitation program urged by the Government through Secretary Lamont. Its reductions are for 90 days with adjustment at the end of that time to requirements. A similar provision exists in the reduction plans of most of the other groups.

Secretary Wilbur said this development in the oil situation offered something concrete to work upon at the April 9 meeting of the Federal Oil Conservation Board. At that session all the significant factors entering into the present troubled status of the petroleum industry are to be discussed with leaders of the industry.

Continuance of reduced oil imports, the Secretary indicated, apparently will depend upon domestic proration. In other words if the way is found to put the domestic production upon a basis soundly proportioned to consumption, with curtailed exploitation of the newest oil fields, among them the important East Texas pool, Mr. Wilbur and the other Government leaders working upon the problem feel confident the importers will continue their voluntary curtailment.

No total estimate of the import cuts is possessed by officials. The figures supplied them indicates Standard of New Jersey will cut from 60,000 to only 45,000 barrels a day, the Gulf Co. by 25 per cent, and the Shell group will reduce imports of gasoline 50 per cent.

The Interior Secretary said he hoped the oil men at the conservation board meeting, would really "look themselves in the face" and get to the root of their troubles.

"We have a wild horse to deal with," he said. "We haven't got it

U. S. CLERKS TO GET RELIEF IN PARKING

Commissioner Crosby Plans to Recommend Change in 2-Hour Law.

Government employes who protest against being included in the proposed two-hour parking zone at a meeting of the District Commissioners today will find a sympathetic audience, as Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, Police Commissioner, intends to recommend certain changes in the boundaries of the zone that affects them.

Although Commissioner Crosby would not reveal the boundaries he intends to propose as an amendment to Traffic Director William H. Harland's plan, it is understood that for the next six months at least, these protesting Government employes will be permitted to park all day long as they do now.

Among the departments whose representatives have asked to be heard are the Agriculture Department, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Smithsonian Institution, and the Bureau of Accountancy. The executive council of the Federation of Federal Employes will also be represented.

While the Commissioners intend to yield in this instance, they do not intend to abandon the original proposal. Steps will be taken within the next half year to induce the Fed-

Treasury's Issue Is Oversubscribed

$100,855,000 in Bills Sold as Public Applies for Treble Amount.

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Mellon announced last night the $100,000,000 issue of Treasury bills to meet loans to World War veterans had been heavily oversubscribed. The Treasury accepted bids for $100,855,000, while applications were made for $343,857,000.

The highest bid was 99.695, equivalent to an interest rate of 1.22 per cent on an annual basis. The lowest bid accepted was 99.621, equivalent to a 1.52 per cent interest rate.

The average price of Treasury bills to be issued is about 99.634, while the average rate on a bank discount basis is about 1.46 per cent.

Calvin Coolidge Says:

The return of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, to this country, where he has been a frequent visitor for the past decade, indicates the interdependence of finance among the nations and the importance of the United States in the economic world. For years after the war foreign exchange was fluctuating and uncertain. The effect on exports was bad. It took careful cooperation of the banking world, with the help of loans made here, to stabilize exchange. Farmers, wage earners and our whole business structure were benefited.

Not only our great general financial resources but, at the present time, the gold in our banks, now the largest amount on record, make us a power in the world money markets. No really great public or private financing is done without our participation. Last year our foreign loans exceeded $900,000,000. Those of the British exceeded $550,000,000. The placing of these great loans is a grave responsibility, affecting the prosperity and possible peace of many people. Even an informal conference between experts like Mr. Norman and our financiers would be mutually helpful in the discharge of domestic and foreign duties.

Free Corn Whisky Feature Of Reno Mayor's Platform

Incumbent Urges Barrel of Liquor With Dipper on Every Street Corner; Gambling and Divorce Also Planks Which Opponents Refuse to Debate.

Reno, Nev., March 30 (A.P.).—Two candidates for mayor, opposing E. E. Roberts, incumbent, who is seeking reelection on a platform advocating free whisky and supporting licensed gambling and easy divorce, have refused to campaign on those issues.

The mayor opened his campaign for reelection last week by replying to a statement by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, national director of the Methodist Board of Temperance, in which the Methodist minister said Nevada is a combination of Sodom, Gomorrah and perdition.

Speaking from the pulpit of the Methodist Church last night, the Reno Mayor, a former representative and one of the city's most active divorce lawyers, declared Dr. Wilson's views are all wrong and based on a misconception of the aims of Reno to alleviate suffering by dealing in the open with social problems.

Mayor Roberts told the church gathering that gambling is "bad business," but that as long as people will gamble it is more desirable that it be done openly and with the sanction of the law. He also defended the segregated district in Reno as a means of controlling vice.

He advocated the placing of a barrel of corn whisky on every corner in the city, with a dipper attached and a sign inviting all to drink as much as they pleased, but not to carry any

Russ Asbestos Sales Quiz Ordered by U. S.

Unfair Dealing Claimed; Head of Amtorg Must Leave Country.

(Associated Press.)

An investigation of alleged unfair practices in the importation and sale of Russian asbestos in the United States was ordered yesterday by the Tariff Commission.

At the same time the Labor Department announced that Feodor M. Zyavkin, general manager of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, must leave the country voluntarily or be subject to deportation. The Amtorg company is the official Russian trade agency.

The Tariff Commission set a hearing for May 19 at which testimony will be presented. The action resulted from complaints by the Bear Canyon Asbestos Co., of Ambler, Pa., and the Regal Asbestos Mines, Inc., of New York City, which own asbestos mines in Arizona.

They said they had been compelled to close some of their mines.

The complaints charged, among other things, that methods used in the sales of Russian asbestos had been such that buyers had been induced to break their contracts.

German Ace Weds Widow Of Briton He Killed in War

Mrs. Gordon Duff Bride of Commander Von Kohenlohe, Who Shot Husband in Air Combat, After Revelation of Tragedy Once Parted Pair.

Berlin, March 30 (U.P.).—The strange post-war romance of an English woman who was married to the German flying "ace" who shot down and killed her husband was revealed today.

Mrs. Gordon Duff, widow of a Highland officer in the British army, was married to Orts-Kommandur Otto von Kohenlohe at a registry office here early this month. She met him first shortly after the close of the war, at a watering place in Europe, where she had gone to recuperate from a long illness and grief over her husband's death.

The German officer and Mrs. Duff became friends, and one moonlight night Commander Kohenlohe asked her to marry him. They exchanged confidences and Mrs. Duff told him how her husband was killed in action.

"One of your fellows brought him down over the Hindenburg line," she said. "You see, he had been an infantry officer and had not long been with the royal air force."

"But," said the agitated flier, "I always thought of him as a Highlander. * * * Your pictures of him * * * in his kilts * * * and * * * was he Capt. Duff of the R. A. F.?"

They learned that he had shot down her husband. They parted and until last Christmas did not meet again. They came together again at the residence of an American consular officer in Paris, where both were guests.

NEW WAGES' SCALE TO WORRY BIDDERS

partments from contractors asking for information about the new law, several inquirers asking what is the recognized prevailing wage here and elsewhere where work is to be done.

The Labor Department has avoided giving any advance ruling in response to these inquiries and will not specify a prevailing wage in any field or place until the question is brought to formal issue. That can happen only after a contract has been let and work begun. Complaint about low wages will be followed by investigation and if the complaint is borne out the contractor will be ordered to pay higher wages.

"Responsibility for taking the prevailing wage scale into consideration in making their bids rests squarely on the contractors and not on the Government," Hugh L. Kerwin, chief of the division of conciliation of the Labor Department said. "Contractors have to take the details of specifications into consideration and stand responsible for their computations expressed in bids and the same thing applies to wages.

"It simply is another factor the contractor will have to take into consideration and familiarize himself with. The contractors, incidentally, brought this new law on themselves. There were many instances in which contractors imported labor and completely upset the wage scale and labor market in communities where conditions had been stable."

Labor union officers throughout the country are reported to be on the watch for contractors who seek to get around the new law and pay too low wages and to be ready to make an immediate issue of each case.

Contractors, too, are said to be watching their figuring and the new Interior Department Building may enter into the first test of the new law. Contracts for finishing the interior of the new building will be let soon and representatives of the local painters' union and other labor representatives are watching the bidding closely. Union representatives contend the union scale of wages for painters is $11 a day and that figure should be considered the prevailing wage for that kind of work in Washington. Labor Department officials, however, refuse to comment on this contention, contending themselves with the statement that whenever a dispute arises the facts involved will have to be studied carefully before decision is made.

HOOVER GIVES FARM BOARD FREE HAND

cents above the world price quoted in Liverpool.

This was done, so it was said at the White House yesterday, in order to save a great many banks in the wheat belt. Had wheat prices continued to decline, these institutions might have failed.

The banks held loans secured by wheat at prices approximating those paid by the Farm Board in buying up the surplus. These banks have now cleared most of the loans, and are in good condition to face the new crop year.

Chairman James C. Stone, of the Federal Farm Board, came back to Washington yesterday after a tour of the farm belt and declared that grain cooperatives throughout the region he had traversed were in favor of the board's decision not to buy 1931 wheat.

That the board's campaign to have the farmers save themselves by planting less wheat is meeting with success, Chairman Stone said, was indicated by the fact that about 3 per cent less wheat will be harvested this year.

President Hoover saw two members of his Cabinet yesterday—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Secretary of Labor Doak. Secretary Hyde told the President that 146,486 drought-relief loans had been made up to March 27 and that a total of $22,485,486 had been extended to the borrowers.

Commission of nquiry On Cuba Is Suggested

(United Press.)

A presidential commission to investigate affairs in Cuba was suggested yesterday by Senator Henrik Shipstead (Farmer-Labor), Minnesota.

RETAIL AUTO SALES SHOWN INCREASING

Cheer Is Seen in Statistics Regarded as Barometer of Business.

By WILLIAM ULLMAN.

Retail motor car sales, regarded as one of the best barometers of trade conditions, have taken a marked upturn in the District of Columbia since the first of the year. Actual sales for January and February combined were within five units of the first two months of 1929 and exceeded by 16 per cent those of the similar period in 1930.

The number of cars sold during the first two months this year was 2,545, as against 2,292 last year, and 2,550 in the industry's most sensational twelve months, those of 1929. These figures are a part of the comprehensive picture of local retail conditions presented by R. L. Polk & Co., of Detroit, business analysts.

As an index to general economic conditions, new car registrations indicate the District of Columbia to be in a much more favorable position than the Nation as a whole. While retail sales of automobiles in the local trading area advanced 29 per cent during January as compared with the same month a year ago, the national average fell 33 per cent below January, 1930.

Sales Up in District.

Locally, Polk statisticians point out, February sales were 2.9 per cent above those of 1930, while, for the Nation as a whole, they were 31 per cent off from a year ago. The following table shows the total sales for the National Capital and the country as a whole.

	D. C.	U. S.
January, 1930.....	962	180,094
January, 1931.....1,207		124,330 (est)
February, 1930....1,330		211,645
February, 1931....1,338		145,000 (est)

Approximately the same contrast in effective purchasing power between Washington and the Nation as a whole is shown by comparison of this year's sales figures with averages for the past three years. Nationally, in February, the figures show a decline from the three-year average of 31 per cent, while for this city they reflect a 3 per cent increase in motor car buying.

Three-year average registrations for the entire country are 178,008 for January and 191,133 for February. In Washington, they are 869 and 1,900, respectively, for the two months.

Registrations on Increase.

Since they reached the low mark of 93,066 in November, national registrations have increased steadily. December sales were 96,054, January, 124,350, and February 145,000. Although the latter two are estimated they are based upon virtually complete returns.

Final figures for the District of Columbia show 868 November registrations. December recorded a gain to 932, while January and February, respectively were 1,207 and 1,338.

Tabulation of March registrations for Washington is awaited with interest. It was in March, 1929, that the all-time record in passenger car sales was established when 2,581 units were sold. In the same month last year sales of new cars were 2,071.

SUNDAY NAIL DRIVER REFUSES FINE; JAILED

Woodward that he is a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church and that he does not consider Sunday the Sabbath and that furthermore he is a plumber and construction of the house is not work but recreation to him. Judge Woodward reluctantly fined him $5 on the ancient blue law violation charge.

When Millward C. Taft, of Takoma Park, prominent in Seventh Day Adventist circles and especially as editor of Liberty, a magazine devoted to opposing Sunday blue laws, attorney for Mr. Ballenger, and Attorney F. Barnard Welsh, of Rockville, prepared to file appeal from the decision it was found that the maximum fine in the law is $5 and the minimum fine for which an appeal can be noted is $10.

It was decided to take the case before the Circuit Court anyway, and Judge Woodward permitted the case to go up to the higher court.

Following the dismissal of the appeal Mr. Ballenger and his attorneys held a conference and the defendant decided that rather than submit to the law he would serve his time in the county jail.

OIL IMPORT LIMIT MADE UNANIMOUS

saddled nor have we a bridle on yet, but at least we have something between its teeth and over one ear."

Oklahoma Ctiy, March 30 (A.P.).—Doctors for an "ailing oil industry," the oil States advisory committee, will meet in Washington April 7 and 8 to make concrete plans for recovery of the patient.

The program will be laid before the Federal oil conservation board April 9 and its cooperation requested.

Cicero Murray, Oklahoma City, chairman of the committee, said tonight the program to be formulated would be in conformance with resolutions adopted at a meeting in Texarkana, Tex., March 9.

He said the cmomittee would present to the Federal board a concrete plan for an interstate compact to carry out objects of the Texarkana resolution which calls for uniform proration laws, unit allocation of oil, curbing of imports, equitable methods of withdrawal of storage oil, and, if necessary, setting of price on both crude and refined products.

Cooperation Not Necessary.

While the cooperation of the Federal board is desired, it is not absolutely necessary, Murray said. The proposed interstate compact, to be binding, would have to bear congressional approval.

The program, the chairman said, would call for investigation of the oil situation and for recommendations of fair retail prices for refined products.

"Each Staet would be on the same proration and potential basis, he explained.

Representatives of ansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico, Wyomnig, California and Ohio have been asked to attend the Washington conference. It is not planned to ask Federal control of the industry.

eral Government to provide parking space, other than on the streets, for these employes. The Commissioners are also known to favor some changes in transportation methods used by Government employes.

The survey made by Dr. Miller McClintock revealed that each parked automobile in the downtown area carried less than two persons on an average. The Commissioners feel that some system of doubling up passengers should be worked out so that one employe will not require from 8 to 10 feet of parking space on the streets.

No changes in the boundaries of the first and second zones, which cover the more congested areas, are likely to be made by the Commissioners. In fact, Gen. Crosby said that few complaints had been heard on these proposed restrictions.

When the problems of parking are somewhat nearer settlement, attention will probably be turned to control of pedestrian traffic.

Commissioner Crosby admitted yesterday that this matter had been in his thoughts ever since he saw how well police controlled pedestrians in Los Angeles. It is for their own safety rather than for the convenience of motorists, that regulations governing pedestrians should be enforced, he said.

The National Capital Park and Planning Commission, it was learned yesterday, is giving consideration to a proposal to reduce the park space at Thomas Circle so as to better traffic conditions at this point. The suggestion has been made to run the street car tracks in more of an oval rather than in a circle so as to provide more room for motor vehicles.

Traffic Director Harland said yesterday that he would send further recommendations, among which will be the proposal to change the manner of making a left turn in traffic, to the Commissioners today or tomorrow. He proposes to change the regulation from the present rotary to the Hoover left turn.

Capital Parking Restrictions Hit

Commerce Chamber Group Opposes Handicaps to Auto Loadings.

Parking restrictions which interfere with automotive vehicles loading or unloading goods were opposed in resolutions adopted by the committee on transportation of the Washington Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting yesterday at the Hamilton Hotel.

Comparison was made of the present traffic rules in Washington with those included in the uniform traffic code issued by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety. Observation was made that the Washington traffic system differs from the uniform code in four particulars, and recommendation was made that a study be made of these points of difference for future report.

The points in which the local system differs, as cited, are: The left-hand turn, speed limit, amber lights and the character of traffic signs. The committee received a request from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for a report on the local traffic system.

Produce Prices Advance, Checking Long Decline

(Associated Press.)

A 1-point advance in the general level of agricultural commodity prices of local farm markets from February 15 to March 15, after an uninterrupted decline from September, 1930, was announced yesterday by the Agriculture Department.

On March 15, however, when the index of farm prices stood at 91 per cent of the prewar range, it was still 35 points lower than the previous year and at the lowest march level in 21 years. A sharp advance was noted in the farm price of eggs and moderate increases in chickens, butter, lambs, horses, flaxseed, sheep, hogs and cottonseed.

Hoover's Sugar Cane Barred by Inspectors

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover is shy two bottles of juicy Porto Rican sugar cane. The Government took it away from him.

While in Porto Rico the Chief Executive, thinking of his little grandchildren, and Secretary Hurley, who also has youngsters in his household, decided to bring back some of the can for the children. It was easy to get two large bottles of cane, but Agriculture Department inspectors at Hampton Roads seized it because they feared it carried tropical plant diseases.

Removal of Tracks Is Seen as Likely

Traction Attorney Shows Commission Precedents for Action.

The Public Utilities Commission will, in all likelihood, grant the petition of the Capital Traction Co. to remove its tracks on the F and G street loop, west of Seventeenth street, despite the challenge of its authority in the matter, it was indicated yesterday after G. Thomas Dunlop, counsel for the street railway, filed a brief supporting the commission's authority.

Action on this matter as well as the request of the Washington Rapid Transit Co. for permission to alter its route was postponed yesterday by the commission until Thursday.

The traction attorney cited numerous cases which he contended gives the commission precedents for permitting the tracks to be removed even though their establishment is provided for in the charter granted by Congress.

Asleep at Roadside, 6 Run Over by Car

Three May Die, Child Unhurt by Motor Which Drove On in Night.

Los Angeles, March 30 (A.P.).—Four men, a mother and her 6-year-old daughter were run over by a hit-and-run driver while they slept on the roadside near San Dimas early today near their automobile, which had broken down. The men had planned to repair the automobile at dawn.

An automobile, roaring at high speed, swerved from the pavement bounced over the six sleeping persons and disappeared in the night. John Blanco, 17, and Mr. and Mrs. Socorro Gonzales probably will die, physicians said. Tomosa Blanco, 38, and Manuel Gonzales, 21, were hurt badly, but were expected to recover. Lupe Gonzales, sleeping in the arms of her mother, escaped without a scratch.

RUSSIAN ASBESTOS INQUIRY IS ORDERED

bestos, Ltd., Inc., of Millington, N. J., were named in the complaints.

The Labor Department said Zyavkin's permit as a visitor, which was issued in January, 1930, and extended last July, had expired and renewal had been refused.

"Zyavkin," Secretary Doak said, "is being treated as any other alien who overstays the time limit in his permit to enter the country.

"He entered the country as an employe of Export Kled, a Russian organization, and after being in this country some months changed his employment to an American company.

"Should Zyavkin fail to leave the country within a reasonable time, a warrant of arrest and orders for his deportation will be issued."

Allegations of Communist activities by Zyankin, who was under fire by Representative Fish, head of the House Communist investigating committee, had nothing to do with revocation of his permit, the Labor Department said.

The sole reason, it was added, was that he had changed employment after entering the United States, and consequently his status had been changed, so that to stay he would have to be admitted as an immigrant. The Russian immigration quota is filled at the present time.

Johnson Will Not Run For House Post Again

Mr. Johnson, who has represented South Dakota in Congress since 1915, said he would resmue practice of law when his present term expires.

25 Years in Prison Meted to Slayer

Storekeeper Who Killed Man Pleads Guilty to Lesser Count.

Pleading guilty to a charge of second degree murder after he had been indicted for first degree murder, Ernest Carroll, Negro, was sentenced to serve 25 years in prison by Justice Oscar R. Luhring yesterday.

Carroll confessed to Detective Sergt. Thomas Sweeney that he shot and killed Albert A. Galbreath in Carroll's store at 110 L street northwest, February 16.

The Negro said he had strewn some money about the body of Galbreath after he shot him in an attempt to substantiate his original story that he shot Galbreath when he found him rifling the store's cash register. Shortly after he was taken into custody he confessed to shooting the man after an argument.

Bailey Is Assigned To Handle Motions

Under the "Cleveland system" of handling court cases, recently adopted as a model for the District Supreme Court, Justice Jennings Bailey will administer motions and assignments, it was announced yesterday. The model system is expected to expedite cases. It will become effective April 11.

Justice Bailey will handle all motions, both in circuit and law cases, will sign all formal orders, hold hearings on all habeas corpus writs, and in contempt cases arising out of divorce cases. The work was formerly done by all the justices, the result being that cases were frequently postponed and often delayed a long time until the motion could be made before a justice who had jurisdiction.

BURKE PLANS FIGHT ON MURDER CHARGE

Preliminary Hearing Is Set in Justice Court for April 8.

St. Joseph, Mich., March 30 (A.P.). Fred Burke, termed the Nation's most desperate killer, set out today to fight "a tight case." That was his description of the Michigan murder charge which brought "the most dangerous man alive" back from Missouri.

He took the first step by refusing to waive preliminary examination. Justice of the Peace Joseph Collier bound him over to April 8, when he must show why the State should not hold him for the slaying of Traffic Policeman Charles Skelly.

Stolidly silent, Burke indicated only in court that he will plead not guilty to the count which might send him to Jackson Prison for life. Later, a deputy sheriff asked him a random question about the shooting.

"That's a serious matter," he snapped back. "I don't want to talk about it. They've got a tight case against me here."

Chicago Detectives Quit.

Other "serious matters" bobbed up to harass him in his cell. Chicago detectives, who wanted him for the St. Valentine's Day massacre, gave up their investigation. But in the afternoon Capt. Patrick McVeigh and Sergt. Michael McNamara, of New York City, arrived to question him about the slaying of Frankie Yale (or Uale), Brooklyn bootleg king.

Yale was rumored to have run afoul of Alphonse Capone's liquor plans. Rumor also linked Burke to Capone.

The detectives, however, got small satisfaction. They asked two questions and then postponed their examination until later.

"What's your religion, Fred?" McVeigh asked.

"Me? Oh, I'm a Hindu."

"Yeah? You're short a turban, aren't you?"

"Oh, I gave that to a photographer to drape over his camera."

Lawyers Are Retained.

Attorneys have been engaged by Burke. He indicated Barratt O'Hara, Chicago lawyer who defended Virgil Kirkland in the Gary, Ind., "flaming youth" murder trial, would be one of them.

It was deemed probable the Burke case would not come up for trial before the May term. That will mean a six-week probable sojourn in the Berrien County Jail.

Hundreds of curious St. Joseph citizens, who once knew Burke as "Fred Dane," a wealthy business man, surged into the jail today to get a glimpse of him. He had been regarded as a quiet, likeable personality during his life here as "Dane," and St. Joseph was surprised to learn, after the Skelly slaying, that "Dane" was Burke, using this small Lake Michigan shore town as a hide-out.

Ax Slayer of Six Gets 15-Year Term

LeRoy Robinson Sentenced by Michigan Court for Robbery.

Detroit, March 30 (A.P.).—Leroy Robinson, alias George Meyers, who Saturday confessed the slaying of six persons in Iowa in 1912 and who yesterday was said to have headed a plot of ten prisoners to break out of the county jail, was sentenced to from fourteen and one-half to fifteen years in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson today.

Robinson was convicted of breaking and entering February 18. He had been caught robbing a Grosse Pointe Park home. Before Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson today Robinson reiterated his confession of the Iowa slayings.

Robinson's confession that he killed six persons at Villisca, Iowa, does not tally with the record of the crime, the officers said. Eight persons were killed. Robinson's confession accounted for only six.

Charges Reach Mayor in California but He Retains Smile.

Palm Springs, Calif., March 30 (A.P.).—Charges made against Mayor James J. Walker of New York, and mailed to him by Gov. Franklin Roosevelt, arrived here today, but there was nothing unpleasant enough about them to dent the mayor's smile.

He confided to newspaper correspondents he was eager to get back to New York and give the answer which he has pomised on his arrival. He starts eastward tomorrow afternoon.

The mayor has been accused of neglect of duty. The charges were delivered as he lounged in the sun of the desert here, dressed in blue and black silk pajamas. While reading the document he sipped a glass of milk.

Portion of Torso Found Near Bridge

New York City Authorities Think Homicidal Maniac Is at Large.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—For the second time in less than three days a part of a human body has been found in the vicinity of the Williamsburg Bridge, connecting Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Workmen in a lumber yard today found a portion of a torso. It had been severed from the rest of the body by a saw, an ax or a knife, the medical examiner could not be certain which.

Last Friday night a woman's thigh was found at the Brooklyn end of the Williamsburg Bridge. The medical examiner today said it was unlikely the two parts came from the same body, one reason being that the body from which the section of torso was cut had been dead not more than 48 hours. It appeared to have been from the right side of a powerfully built man. Police tonight believed a homicidal maniac was at large.

Russell Murder Witness Is Found

Hathaway Attorney Checks on Veracity of His Informant.

Providence, R. I., March 30 (A.P.). Samuel I. Jacobs, attorney for Elliott R. Hathaway, Fall River youth charged with the murder of Verna E. Russell, student nurse, told newspapermen today at the Providence County Jail where he visited the youth, that he had located "an eyewitness to the actual crime."

Mr. Jacobs would not amplify his statement, declaring that he was "checking up" on the veracity of his informant.

Accompanying the attorney to the jail was Mrs. Louis E. Hathaway, wife of State Representative Hathaway and mother of the accused slayer. Mrs. Hathaway expressed belief in the innocence of her boy.

Walter Lebon, Philadelphia, was held as a material witness. Customs agents said they found a mould for making 50-cent pieces, a quantity of nitric acid and plaster of paris.

Bodies of 2 Men And Sister Found

Slaying, Suicide Theory Held; Discovery Made After Five Days.

New London, Conn., March 30 (A.P.).—The bodies of John Willey, about 60, his brother, Henry, about 55, and his sister, Kate, 45, were found today in Willey's home in the town of East Haddam. State police said John Willey apparently killed his brother and sister and then committed suicide.

Indications were that the slayings and suicide occurred about five days ago. The two slain were virtually decapitated. Troopers could not say positively whether their heads had been chopped off or blown off with a gun.

John Willey either cut his throat or shot himself.

McAdoo, Junior, Fined On Disturbance Charge

Beverly Hills, Calif., March 30 (A.P.).—William Gibbs McAdoo, jr., pleaded guilty today in a justice court at Sherman, near here, to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace. McAdoo and a companion, John W. Montgomery, were fined $10.

Earlier in the day arrangements were made to continue the case for one week, but at noon young McAdoo and Montgomery appeared in the courtroom and the case was disposed of.

Shake-Ups Started In New York City

383 Inspectors in Tenement House Department Are Transferred.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—The clean-up broom swished furiously today as Tammany hastened to tidy its house against the coming of unbidden guests from Albany. Dust flew in the tenement house department and when it settled 383 men found themselves in new jobs. William F. Deegan, head of the department, said every inspector in Brooklyn had been transferred to Manhattan and vice versa. Inspectors in the three other boroughs also were affected. Meanwhile, Samuel Seabury, who is to be counsel for a legislative committee, which will investigate the city government, disclosed he had an appointment with W. Kingslane Macy, but refused to divulge its object. Mr. Macy, Republican State chairman, urged the investigation upon the Legislature and it was reported he would discuss methods of procedure with Seabury.

A grand jury began investigating the case of Rollin C. Bastress, Queens County Republican and chief inspector of the Manhattan buildings bureau. He is accused of taking a bribe from Alderman Walter G. Jones, of Yonkers, a contractor. Jones waived immunity and went before the grand jury.

8 STRIKING USHERS REINSTATED AT FOX

Wrong Impression Gleaned From Manager's Talk, They Explain.

Eight of the 21 ushers who went on strike at the Fox Theater Saturday night returned to the theater yesterday afternoon and, after explaining to David M. Idzal, new manager of the house, that they had "jumped to wrong conclusions" and acted on the spur of the moment, they were given back their jobs.

The prodigals, however, will have to start at scratch, to use the expression of Mr. Idzal, which means that they lack the promotion stripes that they had earned. They will be given a fair opportunity to regain the ground they have lost, and should do so with speed in view of the experience they have had, Mr. Idzal said.

The other young men who quit, with the exception of the ringleaders, will be given back their jobs if they express a desire to return, Mr. Idzal announced.

Those who returned lined up on the carpet of the manager's office at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The entire managerial staff was present, with a reporter from The Post. One of the young men, acting as spokesman, said that they had reached false conclusions when Willard Tatereau was assigned to supervise the service staff two weeks ago.

The impression was that the jobs of the ushers were at stake if they did not come up to a required mark, it was explained. In a talk to the ushers two weeks ago Mr. Idzal told them that if they did not aspire to anything higher than the jobs they held they did not belong in the theater. The ushers are understood to have taken this remark in the wrong way. Mr. Idzal explained yesterday that he meant that the young men should strive to work for promotions in the Fox organization.

The ushers who returned yesterday are Joseph Kimmel, Frank Taylor, Euston Early, Joseph Margolis, Walter Long, Raymond Jennings, Alfred Rinaldot and Benjamin West.

More than 250 young men applied at the theater yesterday for positions. Some of them were employed to fill existing vacancies.

Mate Is Not Alive, Midget Wife Says

Mrs. Bagonghi Asks Court to Declare Husband Legally Dead.

A 3-foot midget, whose earnings in a circus average $250 a week, is the subject of a judicial procedure by his 4-foot wife, Mrs. Irene O. Bagonghi, of 1718 North Capitol street, who asks that he be legally declared dead.

The wife points out that her husband has not been heard of for more than seven years and that none of his relatives or friends in his native city in Italy have seen or heard of him. She tells the court that were he alive he would be a featured circus performer and would therefore be known to his friends as alive. In the absence of such billing, she said, she believes he is dead.

In the summer of 1923 the husband went to California with the circus. He left that job and has not been seen since. The couple has no children.

Phone Girls Take Nutrition Course

Twelve-Lesson Series in Postgraduate Work Is Begun Here.

A twelve-lesson nutrition course under instruction of Miss Margaret Harhin, an employment supervisor of the traffic or operating department, has been formed among young women employes of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. The course is postgraduate work of the general health course which has graduated 1,300 young women in Washington.

The idea of the work, according to Miss Harhin, is to instruct the young women in preparing and serving well-balanced meals and eating at regular hours. In addition to theoretical instruction, the students actually prepare meals and serve them.

Those taking the course are Helen P. Beyer, Birdie Farnsworth, Maisie A. Hadlow, Dorothy M. Jahn, Marie Mann, Ruby V. Marstin, Mary J. McCarthy, Lillian V. Ramey, Agnes C. Sullivan and Marguerite Wood.

Olive Tablets bring no griping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Marine Corps Commandant Commends Flag Movement

Sound and Sensible Plan Making for Patriotism, Gen. Fuller Says.

Maj. Gen. B. H. Fuller, commandant of the United States Marine Corps, has joined with Gen. Pershing, Admiral Sims, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and other high ranking Army, Navy and Marine officers in indorsement of the program of the United States Flag Association, which includes the contest to select two Envoys of Friendship for the goodwill trip to Europe, now being conducted by the Flag Association with the cooperation of The Washington Post.

In a letter to Col. James A. Moss, president general of the Flag Association, Gen. Fuller says:

"It was good of you to send me a copy of the interesting booklet, explaining the great movement which the United States Flag Association is inaugurating in the cause of patriotism and universal friendship.

"I have read it with pleasure and congratulate you on the sound and sensible plan you have so carefully worked out for the creation of a world friendship based on rational patriotism.

"I am only too glad to join Gen. Pershing and Admiral Sims in indorsing your splendid program, in the carrying out of which I wish you every success."

MAJ. GEN. B. H. FULLER.

GOOD WILL FLAG ESSAYS ARE DUE BY NOON TODAY

by suggesting books on United States history and the history of the flag, which are to be studied in the meantime. It is pointed out that there is a great deal of information regarding the United States flag in the book, "The American Flag, Its Glory and Grandeur," which can be obtained from any public library, and there are other books on the flag which teachers will be able to suggest for study.

Books, Essays, Paragraphs.

In addition to these books, a series of short essays or paragraphs on rational patriotism and other kindred subjects, prepared by officials of the United States Flag Association, will be run from time to time in The Washington Post, so that it behooves every student to read The Post every mornnig in order to be sure of not missing any details.

For those who think that this involves a lot of study, officials of the Flag Association again point out that the rewards are large. They include a patriotic pilgrimage to Fort McHenry, where Francis Scott Key was inspired to write "The Star-Spangled Banner;" a trip to Philadelphia, home of the famed Liberty Bell; to Valley Forge, where Washington's soldiers, undaunted by lack of shoes, wound rags around their feet and plunged barefoot through the snow, leaving bloody footprints to mark their progress toward liberty; and thence to New York and to London and Paris, all without one cent of expenditure.

In addition every contestant will receive a medal from the United States Flag Association—a medal such as men and women in all walks of life are proud to possess, as each one marks the performance of some patriotic service to the flag. All contestants get the "Old Glory" medal, while the winners receive the Cross of Honor of the flag association, the same medal awarded to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his return from Paris, when a proper flag service of the United States Flag Association was the only nonofficial trip he made, with the exception of a brief appearance before a State society. Runners-up or alternates to the "Envoys of Friendship" will receive the Patriotic Service Medal, the second highest honor of the flag association.

Sixty-three Will Go to Europe.

The trip, as has been stated before, is a good-will trip to England and France, wherein 63 young Americans, picked for their capabilities and qualities of future leadership, shall meet the children of England and France, converse with them, take them a message of good will from the United States and become so well acquainted that if at some future time the nations, either or both, disagree with the United States they will remember this friendship and hie themselves to the conference table rather than to the battlefields for settlement.

Those that know most about war are the strongest indorsers of this plan for world peace. Such men as Gen. Pershing, Rear Admiral Sims, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and others who know the frightful possibilities of war, are among its stanchest advocates, while the whole project is the brain child of the president general of the United States Flag Association, Col. James A. Moss, U. S. A., retired, a West Point graduate and the veteran of three wars, who has devoted seven years of his life, without salary, to the furtherance of the United States Flag Association and its purposes.

Again this advice is given to those who have handed in essays.

Read The Washington Post every day for further details.

See your teacher about proper books for information on United States history and the ideals and institutions of your country.

Seek such other books pertaining to the flag and to the United States as you think may help you if your essay is among the winners.

FINAL DIVORCE WON BY JEWELER'S WIFE

Mrs. Von Steinner-Goltl, Golfer, Given Decree and Alimony.

Mrs. Alma Von Steinner-Goltl, well known in women's golfing circles, was awarded a final decree for an absolute divorce yesterday by Justice Adkins in the District Equity Court. She is given $75 a month permanent alimony and custody of her son, Albert Von Steinner-Goltl, jr.

In signing the decree, Justice Adkins said that the decree of divorce in favor of Mr. Von Steinner-Goltl, obtained in the corporation court of Alexandria, was not entitled "to full faith and credit by this court and is null and void."

A restraining order had been issued by the local courts prohibiting the husband from carrying out his divorce suit in Alexandria, but on July 31, 1929, he obtained a divorce there and six months afterward married Miss Bonnie Love in Baltimore.

Mrs. Von Steinner-Goltl filed her suit in the local courts on August 14, 1928, and she was given an interlocutory decree November 29, 1930. Mr. Von Steinner-Goltl is a manufacturing jeweler, while she is a member of the family of an F street jewelry merchant.

Ruling on Cutting Off Of Gas Is Requested

Richmond B. Keech, the people's counsel, yesterday asked the Public Utilities Commission to rule on whether the Washington Gas Light Co. could cut off the entire gas service furnished a household when the consumer failed to pay the bill on only one part of the service.

The question has been brought to his attention, Mr. Keech said, by persons who have withheld payments on heater service because of squabbles over the charges and have found their gas for cooking stoves cut off as well.

Neuritis

There is no pain like Neuritis. There is nothing quite so torturing—so utterly unbearable as Neuritis. It robs life of all joy—and makes people desperate. But Neuritis is not hopeless—it responds to proper treatment. A well-known physician has written us, "Have been drinking Mountain Valley Water for six weeks for Neuritis and am feeling better than I have for two years." Mountain Valley Mineral Water from Hot Springs, Ark., brings relief in Neuritis because it gets at the root of the trouble—it tends to neutralize the acids which are irritating the nerves and retards the further accumulation of these acids by aiding healthy, normal elimination through the kidneys. Renew your hope—learn how Nature can help you. Phone for our booklet today. Met. 1062.

Take the first step toward owning a PACKARD

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

If you have long admired and wanted a Packard we can show you how to have one. The chances are that we can prove to you that Packard ownership will cost you no more than it costs you to own your present car—whether it is in the Packard price class or not.

Why do you not take the first step toward Packard ownership? It is an easy step to take and does not obligate you in any way. Just step into our salesrooms—or call us on the phone. We cordially invite you to do either.

If you do, I assure you that you will not be subjected to any annoying sales pressure. That is not our method. But we would like to sit down with you and figure comparative ownership costs—what your car has been costing you and what our records show it would cost you to own a Packard. We will let the figures do the selling! If they show that you cannot have the comfort, the beauty and the distinction of Packard transportation without increased expense you will not be urged to buy.

Even if you own a car costing down to $1500 this message and invitation is directed to you. For while we offer DeLuxe and Individual Custom cars priced from $4285 to over $10,000, we also have eleven Standard models priced down to $2385 at the factory.

And these Standard models are Packards from stem to stern. Big, powerful cars on 126 and 133-inch wheelbases, and built as every Packard is always built—to give truly luxurious and trouble-free service through a very unusually long life.

Of course any Packard may be bought on the payment plan—terms to meet your convenience. We will allow you every dollar your old car is worth and apply its valuation against the down payment on your Packard.

Your Packard is here. Come in and see it today.

CURRENT EVENTS IN VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND

ALEXANDRIAN GIVEN 8 YEARS IN ROBBERY

Plot With Girls to Hold Up Men in Parked Car Is Bared at Trial.

Stanley Ayers, 26, of Alexandria, was found guilty of highway robbery by a jury in Fairfax County Circuit Court yesterday and sentenced to eight years in the State penitentiary by Judge Walter T. McCarthy.

This is the culmination of a series of encounters between Ayers and the Fairfax County police. According to the testimony at yesterday's trial, Ayers and a companion named Arthur Gentle plotted with Edith Wilson, now in prison for stealing a ring, and another girl named Thelma Kincheloe, who has not been apprehended, to "pick up" two men and take them to a designated place in Fairfax County.

The two girls were picked up by two men from Washington whom they directed to a "quiet spot" near Alexandria. Soon after they had parked another car with Ayers and his companion arrived. They held up the men with the girls. The girls accompanied Ayers back to Alexandria.

The holdup victims failed to appear at the trial, so the prosecution relied upon the statements of Edith Wilson, one of the girls who turned State's evidence, and a colored man named Ceaser Geddis, of Alexandria, who was in Ayers' car on the night of the robbery and indicted by the grand jury on the same charge with Ayers. Commonwealth's Attorney Wilson M. Farr and his assistant, Hugh Marsh, conducted the prosecution. The trial lasted all day.

Fellow prisoners heard the thud, called officials, and the semiconscious form was found. Stagle told officials he had been brooding over his difficulties. He was taken into custody charged with theft of a watch and money. He has not been given a hearing.

cepted by England. The working committee thinks it has only to make a united demand upon the British government for full independence and control of the army, finances and foreign affairs and it will be granted, but the British are made of sterner stuff than this. We can achieve our demands only by fighting."

Jawaharlal Nehru, a leading supporter of Gandhi, said in moving the passage of the resolution that if the participation of the Nationalists at the second round-table conference showed that Great Britain intended to lead India into greater bondage than ever the Nationalist delegation would return to renew the struggle with greater vigor.

Under the terms of the truce the Nationalists definitely commit themselves to the idea of a federated India; Indian responsibility with reservations or safeguards for problems of defense, finance and foreign affairs, protection of minorities and discharge of the country's financial obligations.

Maryland Farmer Joins Estate Fight

Caroline Countian Wants Share in $100,000,000 Wendel Fortune.

Baltimore, March 30 (A.P.).—A third Maryland claimant to a part of the $100,000,000 Wendel estate in New York City came forward today. Robert J. Ashe, Caroline County poultry farmer, said he bases his claim on the relationship of his mother, Caroline McCarthy Ashe, to the Wendel family. He said he had placed his claim in the hands of a Washington attorney.

His mother, he said, was a niece of the late Justin McCarthy, Irish historian and political leader. She died last November. Three other sons and three daughters, all living in New York State, and two sisters and two brothers who live in Massachusetts, also survive.

The other local Wendel "heirs" are August Soop, theater employe, and his sister, Jennie, and a youth at Frederick, Md. Miss Ella Wendel, last of her line, died recently at her unique Fifth avenue home, where electricity never supplanted the gas.

TAX RATE IS RAISED IN PRINCE GEORGES

$908,834 Is Needed to Run County for Next Year, Causing Increase.

The sum of $908,834.05 will be needed to run Prince Georges County next year, necessitating a tax levy for the county of $1.52, according to the annual levy signed yesterday by the county commissioners.

This is an increase of $114,702.76 over last year, and the tax rate is 17 cents higher. The increase is largely due to the fact that there was a surplus of $53,000 last year which was used for expenses of the county.

The $1.52 tax is on real and personal property. Other tax rates remain at 30 cents on stocks and bonds to the county, 15 cents on stocks and bonds for the State and 25 cents for the State tax on real and personal property.

Another cause for the increase in the county rate is the greater needs of various county agencies. Schools in the county will receive $30,000 more than last year, due to the necessity for more teachers and to remove a deficit left from last year. The schools receive the largest sum, getting $498,000, and roads are next, with $137,270.59.

Other items in the levy are magistrates' accounts, $5,467.25; fox scalps, $36; defense of criminals, $1,374; expert witnesses, post-mortem examinations, &c., $777.50; registration of vital statistics, $567.14; out pensioners, $1,876; jurors at inquests, $842; hawk heads, $37.20; public printing, $970.25; store accounts, $427.66; stationery, $2,286.78; taxes refunded, $258.33; burying paupers, $480; miscellaneous, $3,477; county agent, $2,055; local farm agent, colored, $700; home demonstration agent, $1,800; house of reformation, $3,500; county social worker, $2,400.

Maryland School for the Blind, $3,000; Volunteer Fire Association, $5,000; bovine tuberculosis eradication, $3,000; local assessors, $1,000; insurance, $8,000; removed cases, $2,377.20; Washington regional highway committee, $1,000; auditing, $1,000; county commissioners, $1,500; clerk of the circuit court, $2,461; salaries, office of the clerk to the county commissioners, $5,260; counsel for commissioners, $900; transfer clerk, $1,200.

Physician to the jail, $100; warden to the jail, $5,670; fuel for courthouse and jail, $2,000; keeper for courthouse and jail, $1,350; guard to jail, $1,480; interest on courthouse bonds, $2,500; interest on jail bonds, $1,800; orphan's court, $1,728; messenger for orphan's court, $144; supervisor of assessments, $2,800; clerks for supervisor of assessments, $2,500; jurors and bailiffs, $7,000; county prosecutor, $2,500; sheriff, $8,000; almshouse, $4,000; health officer $2,000; Maryland Training School for Boys, $4,000; constable's accounts, $1,349.40.

Larger items in the levy are interest on lateral road bonds, $11,577.50; interest on school bonds, $54,302.50; sinking fund, $16,000; lunatic paupers, $22,000; bond redemption, $22,000; interest on county road bonds, $24,750, and treasurer, $9,000.

Funds which get an increase and the amount of the raise are sinking fund, $3,000; lunatic paupers, $4,000; new insurance, $8,000; bond redemption, $4,000; roads, $1,500; magistrates' accounts, $2,000; defense of criminals, $1,000; pensioners, $500; House of Reformation, $500, and removed trial cases, $2,000. The $1,000 for auditing and the amount for the regional highway committee are new items on the levy.

A reduction of taxes will be the main plank in the platform of E. B. Hilley, of Hyattsville, in his campaign for election as mayor, according to his announcement yesterday. He believes the rate of 70 cents may be reduced to 50 cents without any ill effects on the town's finances.

The reduction would be made on the fire apparatus and road note interest funds, each amounting to 10 cents. The town has a large cash balance, he says, and can finish paying for the fire-fighting machinery out of general funds.

Elimination of the road note fund will depend on the passage of the new road law for the town. If this is passed and accepted by the people on May 4, it will be possible to make the reduction. The new law will eliminate the interest now paid out of the general fund on special road notes.

Mr. Hilley has been chairman of the finance committee of the town council for two years.

Registration of voters in Riverdale for the town election on May 4 will be held on April 13, 21, and 27. All persons who have lived in the town more than one year are qualified to vote. Mayor Max Vollberg is running for reelection as are Anton J. Kracke, and W. A. Carson, councilmen.

The Silver Hill Home Demonstration Club will give a card party in the schoolhouse at Silver Hill tomorrow night, Mrs. Walter Latimer acting as honorary hostess. Henry Witt and Max Schuler will be honorary hosts.

Decorations will be in charge of Mrs. Ralph Brauner, while Mrs. Latimer will look after refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Clement Brooks, Mrs. William Swann, Mrs. Rudolph Page, Mrs. Owen Moore, Mrs. W. C. Palmer, Mrs. John Roberts, and Mrs. Walter Downs. Mrs. George Schwepps has charge of the prizes.

Mr. A. R. Schmidt has charge of the oyster supper to be given for the new Forestville Fire Department tomorrow night in Woodmen's Hall in Forestville. The affair will be held from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Three-Year Sentence Follows Mail Fraud

A sentence of three years in the penitentiary was given Sidney Glaser in Criminal Court No. 3 yesterday on a charge of false pretense and using the mails to defraud. He is said to have been a member of a ring that obtained more than $100,000 worth of merchandise through representing himself and others incorrectly to manufacturers out of town.

Julius Rosenberg and Max Garfinkle, Glaser's confederates, were given eighteen months each on a charge of using the mails to defraud. Rosenberg, Garfinkle and Glaser were jointly indicted for the use of the mails, and Glaser was indicted separately for false pertense.

Fire Hits School At Laytonsville

Classes Are Dismissed as Blaze Causes Damage Placed at $1,000.

Children at the Laytonsville School were given an unexpected holiday yesterday by a fire, which caused damage of approximately $1,000 to the building. Classes were dismissed for the day.

The fire was discovered about 8:30 o'clock in the morning and the volunteer fire departments from Gaithersburg, Washington Grove, Rockville and Sandy Spring were called. Flames had eaten their way up one side of the building to the roof. The firemen cut through the roof and a portion of the side wall, hampered in the effort by the dense smoke, and managed to bring the flames under control before serious damage was done to the two-story frame structure of four rooms.

The fire is believed to have been started by an overheated furnace pipe. Children arriving for classes were sent home. It is expected the school will be repaired sufficiently to resume classes within two or three days. Permanent repairs will not be made until the vacation period, according to Superintendent of Schools Edwin W. Broome. Loss is covered by insurance.

FLORIDA-NEW YORK AIR-TRIP COST CUT

Eastern Air Transport Will Inaugurate Coastal Line Route Tomorrow.

Richmond, Va., March 30 (A.P.).—The air route which reaches from Canada to South America will be shortened Wednesday, when a new coastal route between Richmond and Jacksonville is officially opened by Eastern Air Transport, Inc.

Ceremonies preliminary to the opening will be held tomorrow, the principal events being the flight of notables to Charleston for a dinner and a flight to Jacksonville, where the official opening trip will begin.

Florida points will move a day closer to New York by the new service, and four cities will join the air transport map of the Nation. These are Raleigh, N. C.; Florence, S. C., and Savannah, Ga. The Southeast's position in aviation will be strengthened by the service and, because of the shortened distance, a substantial reduction in air fares will become effective between the North and Florida.

In the past the passengers who flew southward went by way of Atlanta, where an overnight stop was made. Now they will speed directly down the coast by way of Charleston and Jacksonville. Both routes are a part of the company's system, and both will be air-mail routes as well as passenger lines. A total of 1,166 miles will be flown daily over the new airway.

With the service in effect, North Carolina will have three cities served by an established air transport line. South Carolina will have four, Georgia three and Florida seven. The company's planes serve Virginia, District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York also.

WHEELER, THE MARTYR.

Senator Wheeler, of Montana, does not agree with his brother insurgents as to the formation of a third party. To go along with the Republican and Democratic parties is, to Senator Wheeler, an act of treachery. He sees the people calling for new and aggressive leadership from out of the ranks of the radicals. The Republicans have gone reactionary and the Democrats are following suit. A political savior is demanded by the people. Casting all selfishness and iniquity aside, the Montana martyr volunteers to sacrifice himself.

Senators Borah, Norris, La Follette, &c., have decreed that the country must be saved without drastic measures that might disturb their comfortable committee chairmanships in the Senate. They do not propose to set up a new organization which might fail to gain for them the spoils of office. It is better to eat the bread of Republicanism than to make themselves martyrs to "the cause of the people." But no such sordid motives inspire Senator Wheeler.

A noble program is brought forward by Senator Wheeler to "remedy the deplorable economic situation." Let the people judge whether or not he is qualified to save the Nation from chaos: First, he demands cooperation of the Federal Government with States and cities in extending a dole to the unemployed. This is a Nation of plenty. Let the Government take from those who have and give it to those who have not. Then let Congress exercise the right of telling all men how long they may work. Amend the Constitution so that working men no longer have the freedom of contract. It would then be a short step to the operation of all industry by the Government monopoly, in imitation of the splendid example of Soviet Russia.

The Montana Hercules would abolish poverty, want and distress. He would remove the risks from life and make of existence one grand, sweet song. Uncle Sam's endless bounty would be extended to the aged, the sick and the unemployed. Paternal operation of power would enable the people to knock off work and eat the lotus of glorious ease.

Senator Wheeler would abolish tariff barriers, so that foreign nations could send their goods to comfort the American people. Supported by luxurious doles, they would allow the rest of the world to work for them. In order that this happy state of bliss might never be disturbed by any belligerent fears, the "huge expenditures on armaments of war" would be abolished, and the country would live in paradise.

On this platform Senator Wheeler offers himself to a third party, composed of the ranks of the people. It is an offer that should be snapped up without delay. Americans are fools to grunt and sweat under a heavy life when they can end it all by making Burton K. Wheeler their President.

BETTER MOTORS.

From both New York and Paris come reports of the invention of new motors with remarkable fuel economy. A demonstration made in Jersey City indicates that a saving of 75 per cent in gasoline may be possible with automobiles of the future. These tests indicate that fuel which now passes through motor cylinders unburned may be utilized. If the invention becomes commercially practical, carbon monoxide gases may be eliminated from the exhaust of automobiles, and the maximum of energy may be extracted from gasoline.

The motor which is being studied in Paris is said to develop unusual power with only light weight and a minimum of fuel. Like the Diesel motor it burns crude oil, but on a different principle. In an airplane this motor would be fireproof and noiseless. It would permit a great saving of fuel, it is claimed, running up as high as 87 per cent.

Whether these inventions will prove to be practical under all conditions remains to be seen. But it is quite certain that better motors will be developed to replace the inefficient power plants which now propel automobiles, airplanes, motor boats, &c. There is an enormous wastage of fuel in motored vehicles. The airplane is capable of traveling only relatively short distances between refueling stations. The automobile belches forth into city streets obnoxious fumes that should be utilized for the generation of power. Improvements along this line have been neglected because fuel is cheap. In Europe, where gasoline is more expensive, motors are more efficient than in the United States.

It is distressing to realize that the world is obtaining only a fraction of the fuel value from its limited oil supply. Real conservation of oil awaits the day when automobiles will be equipped with motors that will propel an automobile at least 60 miles on a gallon of gasoline. In view of the present widespread investigations it is probable that the next few years will see remarkable improvements in motors. It is a reproach to American engineers that airplanes are not noiseless and twice as speedy.

WAGE EARNERS AS CONSUMERS.

A great deal of confusion exists in the United States today as to the economic status of wage earners. On one hand representatives of organized labor are saying that unless wages are maintained at their present level the depression will be prolonged. On the other many industrial men are declaring that production and distribution of commodities can not go ahead on a normal scale until wages are adjusted to the lower commodity prices.

Most of the statistics quoted are unreliable because they present only one side of the picture. Advocates of higher wages and fewer hours of work point out that workmen receive a smaller portion of the value of finished products than they did years ago. They ignore the greater cost of machinery in modern production and the necessity of distributing goods turned out in enormous quantities over a wider area. Likewise those in favor of wage cuts point out the rise of wages and the decline in prices during recent years, ignoring the greater efficiency of labor.

A study made by the Labor Banner is particularly interesting. Real wages, representing what the workingman can actually purchase with his money, have steadily increased since 1921. During the last nine years, according to these findings, the cost of living has decreased 8 per cent. During the same period wages have increased 12 per cent in money value. It is evident that the average working man is better off than he was in 1921.

That does not mean, however, that wages ought to be reduced. One vital element is left out of this calculation; namely, the increased efficiency of workingmen. Manufacturing industries in the United States produce more than five times as much as they did 30 years ago. But they employ only 1.8 times as many men. This means that improved machinery has made it possible for the average man to produce about three times as much as he did at the beginning of the century.

A considerable portion of that higher efficiency has accrued during the last decade. Wages increased, but not as rapidly as productive capacity. Prices declined, but not as much as production expanded. The resulting surplus was caused by the use of machinery. But machinery can not consume goods. If disastrous surpluses are to be avoided, workmen who operate the machines must be allowed a large share of the benefits resulting from mechanization.

The United States produces principally for its own markets. The prosperity of industry and business depends upon the demand in the home market. It is obvious, therefore, that wages, which mean consumptive capacity, must maintain a definite relation to productive capacity. When production soars and wages remain almost stationary, as was the case in 1928 and 1929, the piling up of a surplus is inevitable.

That wages lagged behind increasing efficiency in the years just preceding the depression is indisputable. Since that time prices have declined sharply, and the tendency in most industries has been to maintain wages at their former level. This has restored the balance to some degree, but the situation is complicated by the fact that several million men are out of work. No one can say when the proper relationship between wages and productivity will be reestablished, but certainly nothing could be gained by attempting to revert to the maladjustment which preceded the depression. A mistake of that nature would be as disastrous for industry as it would be for labor.

WASHINGTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

The organization committee of the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington is making progress toward its goal, which is to obtain a guaranty fund of $47,500 in order to insure the success of the first concert season. About $26,000 has been subscribed, besides a subscription of $5,000 by William J. Turner, former vice president of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, conditioned upon subscriptions of an equal amount by four Washingtonians. Two local citizens have met this offer, and if two more public-spirited citizens will come forward the National Capital will be virtually assured of the permanent organization of a splendid modern symphony orchestra, such as is possessed by all other cities of this size.

Hans Kindler, the famous cellist, has undertaken the task of conducting Washington's new orchestra. He is giving valuable time and energy to the work of organization. He deserves the hearty cooperation of Washingtonians. His plan is to inaugurate a concert season of sixteen weeks, with a complete orchestra of 75 musicians. A symphony concert in one week will be followed by two concerts the next week, one of a popular nature and the other for children.

It is high time that Washington should have its own orchestra. The visits of metropolitan orchestras are on uncertain schedules, and employed persons and children are debarred from attending them. All of the people and the children should have the benefit of first-class music. The business-like plan that has now been evolved, and which is under the supervision of prominent citizens, affords an opportunity to establish a permanent addition to the cultural attractions of the National Capital. Since this is an enterprise that will be devoted solely to the public welfare, it deserves the support of the entire public.

WAKE UP, VIRGINIA!

The recent fatalities resulting from the collision of a bus and a truck near Fort Humphrey have started a widespread discussion of the suburban traffic problems that should be instrumental in effecting needed changes and regulations. It is unfortunate that palpable situations must so frequently be brought home to a community by tragedy before remedial action is taken. A prompt consideration of requirements for the safety of travel by the District and adjoining States may serve to avert other serious accidents on the congested highways leading into the Capital.

Heavy buses 8 feet wide, traveling at high rates of speed, certainly are dangerous vehicles on highways that are only 18 feet wide. Two such buses, or a truck and a bus, allowing 6-inch leeway on the outer edges, would have but 1 foot clearance between them.

It developed in connection with criticism of wide buses on narrow roads at the most recent casualty hearing in Virginia that the State law allows a maximum width for motor vehicles of 96 inches. Coroner Ransom, of Fairfax County, took a stand against the licensing of the big buses for travel on narrow roads. Chairman Henry S. Shirley, of the State highway commission, in reply, explains that under the State law a license can not be denied to trucks or buses that do not exceed 8 feet in width.

The situation, therefore, is plain. Until the highways are widened the safety of travel demands that vehicles shall be restricted in width.

An 8-foot bus can not operate safely on an 18-foot highway. Virginia ought to know this, now that its highways are spattered with human blood.

Now that President Hoover has referred to the Virgin Islands as an "effective poorhouse" some insurgent can make a name for himself by working out a new form of dole for them.

A national concern is planning to scrap 3,000,000 automobiles in the United States. Looks as if they might get that many from Washington.

The holder of that $1,723,000 prize in the Irish Sweepstakes must feel like a Democrat winning an election in Pennsylvania.

Maybe the insurgent program for revising tax rates was inspired by the "liquidation of the kulaks" in Russia.

FACTS FOR AMERICANS AND FILIPINOS

By PEDRO GUEVARA and CAMILO OSIAS, Resident Commissioners From the Philippines.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: When we first read the dispatch containing the news of a Princeton professor, Dr. Gibbons, proposing "that arrangements be made for Japan to take a mandate over the islands" we felt that the suggestion was so greatly at variance with America's Philippine policy that it would be repulsive to the instinct of sensible Americans.

The Washington Post, however, has editorialized the suggestion under the caption, "Facts for Filipinos," and injected certain statements which are so apt to be misleading that we wish to submit facts which should be seriously considered by both Americans and Filipinos.

The idea of a mandate is contrary to the policy of the people of the United States, which, time and again, was repeatedly announced in executive pronouncements, in party platforms, and which was plainly stated in legislative enactment "to withdraw their sovereignty over the Philippine Islands and to recognize their independence as soon as a stable government can be established therein."

In the light of this statement of policy it is not understood why the editorial should consider "the idea of ultimate, complete independence" as "a theoretical and fanciful conception," unless it is intended to cast doubt on the sincerity of the American promise which the Filipinos accepted in good faith.

We wish to deny the statement that "in reality the Philippines do not want to be cut loose from the United States." The Filipino people want to be free and independent and immediately. Both political parties in the Philippines want it, and all live elements of the Filipino population are for it. No people are more unitedly for independence than the Filipinos.

Wonder is expressed that our plea "is not based on any grievance." Is it not the dictate of wisdom and statesmanship that Americans and Filipinos should seek a proper solution of the problem on a high plane? Is it not a credit to both peoples that, although there are causes for grievance, they have relegated these to the background and emphasized the justice and equity of the question inspired by good faith and mutual understanding?

The economic bugaboo is again presented in these words: "Nothing short of disaster could be expected if a tariff wall were suddenly erected against Philippine sugar, hemp, &c., by the United States." We desire to reiterate what we, the Filipinos, have many times stated, that we know the consequences of independence; that the protection of our products is temporary, accidental and incidental; that the Philippines can stand the economic shock better if separation comes at an early date instead of its being postponed; that the present uncertainty of our situation is already working havoc on our economic structure, and this is admitted by Americans having business interests in the islands, and that we prize national freedom more than tariff protection.

At the conclusion of the editorial you had this to say about the mandate idea: "This suggestion need not be taken too seriously in the United States. Dr. Gibbons was talking for Filipino consumption." We agree with you, Mr. Editor, that the suggestion does not merit serious consideration. We wish to assure you that the Filipinos in the Philippines will know how to take the suggestion, for they have learned to discriminate between the personal opinion of a visitor and the authorized policy of the people and government of this great Republic.

In closing we wish emphatically to say that the Filipino leaders are conscious of their responsibility to their people, to America, and to the world, and of their duty to know the ideals and the pertinent facts which are involved in the immediate and complete independence of the country which they dearly love.

PEDRO GUEVARA,
CAMILO OSIAS,
Resident Commissioners from the Philippines.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

A WISH.

I don't want to go back to the joys of old which are dead and past and gone;
I am grateful for all of my yesterdays,
but I want to keep moving on.
Though I once was young and once was strong, those gifts have flown away,
And I ask the Lord for the sort of grace that I ought to have today.

I want to be fit for the friends of now, as I was for my playmates then.
I want to be gay as a man should be and stand as man with men.
It is vain to sigh for the vanished joys which never again can be,
So I ask for the wisdom and faith and grace which today expects from me.

I don't want to sit with a doleful face, regretting the pleasures lost.
I don't want to wither and hang my head like a dahlia nipped by frost;
I want to go on with my head up high, and a cheery word to say,
And be as brave and as blithe of heart as I ought to be today.

You Will Feel No Stage Fright While Content to Remain in the Audience.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MANY thousands of people, most of them young, publicly or secretly lament their inability to make sprightly conversation.

In the midst of a social gathering, or marooned in a corner with one companion, they are dumb and miserable. And they feel inferior because they can't be the life of the party.

The misery they endure is genuine, but it is the work of their imaginations and can be cured by analyzing the cause of it.

Constant speech isn't a proof of wit or of poise.

Carlyle and Tennyson spent whole evenings together without exchanging a word, and William Lyon Phelps says that William Dean Howells and Mark Twain once rode together from Hartford to New York, a three-hour journey by train, and enjoyed one another more than usual, though neither of them read anything or said anything.

These men did not remain silent because they lacked poise, nor did silence cause them to feel inferior.

They were silent because they felt at ease in silence.

People embarrassed by silence are self-conscious, and their self-consciousness is a form of vanity.

Troubled vanity whispers, "Everybody is watching you and wondering why you have nothing to say."

But vanity is mistaken. Nobody is watching you or thinking about you. Everybody is enjoying the sound of his own voice. Your silence matters only to you, and you wouldn't be troubled by it if you were humble. The waiter is silent without embarrassment because he knows he doesn't count.

When others are talking nonsense to hide or escape embarrassment you can remain silent without being self-conscious if you do it deliberately. It isn't silence that embarrasses you; it is the desire to talk when you have nothing to say. Resolve to say nothing and you feel at ease.

Never fear that you deliberate silence will seem a social sin. In a group of chatterers it will pass unnoticed, and a single companion will consider it a virtue if you listen well and thus encourage him to do the talking.

The world never suffers for want of talkers. Its chief desire is to have somebody listen.

Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great Show, "Politics," Staged in Congress.

Insurgent Mischief.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

During the last week, instead of cashing his mileage voucher and betaking himself home to the wilds of Nebraska, Mr. Norris has been running around Washington conferring with this and that fellow Insurgent, effecting new offensive and defensive alliances and issuing statements about them. He could scarcely have been busier on the eve of the assembling of a new Congress or of a national political convention. Congress has quit, the conventions are still afar off, but he is determined that politics shall not be adjourned and that the great and glorious movement of insurgency shall not be forgotten by the American people.

This continuation of Norrisian activities is just a little puzzling to persons who take their politics less seriously. There has never been anything just like it before. It might be thought that even the Insurgents would now give the country a rest. But they seem resolved to stay in session, perhaps on the theory that in a condition of depression a counter-irritant will do the country good. And so several of them have been remaining on the job at Washington. The Democrats attribute their victories in last year's congressional elections to their policy of continuous agitation and attack. The Insurgents may be borrowing from their tactics.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Boys Should Register for Summer Training Camps Before It Is Too Late.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: When the erection of the Bunker Hill Monument was halted for lack of funds, it stood for some years incomplete. Then the patriotic women of New England banded themselves together to bring about the completion of the work, which should then be fittingly dedicated. This demonstration of how women bring things to pass was crowned by one of the finest addresses ever delivered, by Daniel Webster, then senator from Massachusetts.

The letter contributed by "A Mother" in The Post of March 27 seems to have been inspired by some letters you have published about Boy Scouts, military schools and summer camps. The effect upon her boy of a 30-day experience in the Plattsburg camp was such as to make her an enthusiastic rooter for them. What a boost to the citizenship of the Nation if mothers everywhere were to join her in that enthusiasm! She might have said also that it is the privilege of every American citizen to serve his country in such measure as may be required of his capabilities.

That fact should be pressed home upon the mind of all youth, of both sexes, for, while men are called for the stern duties of conflict, the women are not less useful. The work of the Christian Commission during the Civil War was largely done by women, "in home, hospital and field," and we all remember their part in the World War. This letter by "A Mother" should be a flare that will light the pathway of other mothers, whose sons have not yet enjoyed the privileges of a camp experience. Less than 8,000 were served in last summer's camps, if reports are correct, which is only 1 per cent of the youth of the land who have "just turned" 17. There must be other mothers whose sons have received personal benefits which they can recognize. Get the boys registered before it is too late. W. EARL ASKEM.

Nevada Described as Get-Rich-Quick State, Gambling on Dead and Gone Traditions.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Nevada is once more seeking a "place in the sun" by advertising herself as a dumping ground for the slick-fingered gambling confraternity.

Nevada's misfortune is not so much its limited population as its inability to move out of the nineteenth into the twentieth century. A get-rich-quick State in its beginning, it has never gotten rid of that feverish concept of life; hence it has small attraction for the hard-working, industrious emigrant, who alone supplies progress and growth to a community.

Still suffering from the itch of mining days, Nevada has refused to utilize the newer opportunities. It has preferred the more bizarre existence of a "wild and woolly" existence, and its steady decadence is the logical result of a policy 50 years behind the times.

From a short residence there I have no doubt that that vast expanse of more than 100,000 square miles has abundant possibilities in the way of legitimate development, but so long as it is controlled by the leftovers of the last century, while it may qualify as a sort of museum, where the curious visitor may glimpse relics of a dead and gone past, it has not the slightest attraction for home seekers.

Presentation of "Galahad" at Luther Place Memorial Church Evokes Enthusiastic Praise.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The music drama, "Galahad," founded on Tennyson's poem and given at the Luther Place Memorial Church for the past three evenings, has been attended by overflowing audiences, many being turned away nightly. Too much credit can not be given Bess Davis Schreiner and her able assistants for bringing this deeply spiritual presentation to the people. The significance of the quest of the Holy Grail is emphasized, and tableaux, action, music and lighting effects were coordinated with consummate art.

Galahad, the Christian Knight, impersonated by Judy Shelton, was well and consistently portrayed throughout the play. Maud Howell Smith, as the Angel of the Grail, holding the luminous cup, appeared in the distant heights as a figure of mystical loveliness. In the shadow, the conflict with the seven deadly sins was powerful in contrasts. The playing, by Walter Nash, of the "Parsifal" music, made an effective background.

This work done by Miss Schreiner, assisted by Gertruds Nash, has been received with appreciation, and it is hoped that similar presentation will soon be given.

Portable Cooling Devices in Sight for Motor Cars as Well as Houses.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In your editorial of March 7 you deplore the lack of American enterprise in cooling buildings in summer. True, but the ice industry is now awake to this opportunity to be of further service to humanity and is studying the problems involved.

Throughout last summer a theater in Baltimore was satisfactorily cooled with ice at one-third the cost of other methods for installing equipment and two-thirds the cost of operating it. So successful was this experiment that researches are now on foot, for the purpose of perfecting plans for cooling and humidifying dining cars and Pullmans, stores, factories, hotels, hospitals and homes.

At present a portable unit for cooling bridge parties, teas, dinners, dances, &c., is being studied, and the day may not be far distant when every closed car will have its own ice compartment for cooling passengers as they ride on Pennsylvania avenue or the Mojave Desert.

HENDERSON ASSAILS TRADE PACT MOVES

Germany and Austria Act Suspiciously, Commons Is Informed.

London, March 30 (A.P.).—The methods by which Germany and Austria announced their projected trade union were described by Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson today as calculated to arouse suspicion.

In an address before the House of Commons, he said that the nature of their negotiations had nullified the advantages of the frank exchange of ideas afforded by international meetings at Geneva and elsewhere.

The questions will be raised before the next meeting of the council of the League of Nations, he said, to determine whether or not the proposed union violates Austria's treaty obligations, particularly the Geneva protocol of 1922. If the council so desires the matter will be referred to the court of international justice at The Hague for an opinion.

Austria presumably will be represented at the proceedings before the council, he said, but Germany has declined because she considers the proposals are purely economic and their submission to the council would imply they had political aspects.

Berlin, March 30 (A.P.).—Foreign Minister Julius Curtius will reply in the Reichsrath tomorrow to the arguments of Foreign Minister Aristide Briand and Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson against consummation of the Austro-German customs agreement.

The spirit in which he will make his address can hardly leave room for doubt. Official circles were told that Germany has a perfect reply to virtually all of Briand's charges; that the world has not been told of the accomplished fact because the fact has not yet been accomplished, and that Briand's contention that world opinion is united against the proposed accord can be disproved by quotations of public opinion from the United States, Japan and partly from England and other European countries.

Will Ask Congress to Bar Navy, Army Men From Liquor Areas.

Panama City, March 30 (A.P.).—Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, said today he intends to introduce a resolution in Congress which would bar Army and Navy forces from any place in Panama territory where liquor is available.

Senator Brookhart said a "rotten mess" existed now, especially in some areas in Panama City. He said he drove through one section where he saw drunken soldiers in United States uniforms staggering about.

Conditions on the Atlantic side, at Colon, are equally "rotten," he said. The senator added that the resolution would apply equally to the Army and Navy, but it was his observation that the Navy already has good regulations, sailors being required to return to their ships by 6 p. m. when the fleet is here.

Sargent brought the personal effects of Frissell and Cameraman A. E. Penrod, both of whom were lost in the disaster.

PROSECUTION RESTS IN LINGLE'S MURDER

Witness Identifies Brothers as Near Slaying Scene on Fatal Night.

Chicago, March 30 (A.P.).—The State rested its case in the trial of Leo Brothers for the Alfred ("Jake") Lingle murder today, after it had introduced circumstantial evidence of witnesses who testified to seeing Brothers at or near the scene of the crime.

Albert W. Kelfstrom, a middle-aged trunk buyer, the seventh State witness, told the jury that he saw the defendant five minutes after the assassination.

Kelfstrom, who works in a luggage store a block and a half from the Randolph Street pedestrian tunnel where Lingle was killed, said that about 1:35, five minutes after the assassination, he found a man standing in a dark hallway of the trunk store, invited him inside and sold him a suit case.

Never Forgot Man's Face.

The man did not examine the bag, Kelfstrom said. He kept out of sight of the street windows, and he never did call for his purchase. He particularly noticed the man, the witness said, because he was "very, very pale."

"I never saw any man in our store look like that before," Kelfstrom said. "I never forgot that face."

Asked if he saw the man in the courtroom, the witness rose and pointed to Brothers. He never took his eyes off the man all the time he was in the store, Kelfstrom said, and he was "positive" Brothers was the man.

Col. Calvin Goddard, ballistics expert and head of the scientific crime detection laboratory of Northwestern University, told of comparing the fatal bullet taken from Lingle's brain with a test bullet fired from the pistol found lying beside his body and said it was his opinion, based on the markings of the two bullets and examination of the gun itself, that the fatal bullet was fired from the weapon now marked "People's Exhibit Number Two."

Said Customer Wore Hat.

Kelfstrom testified that the man who bought the suitcase was wearing a hat. One of the witnesses who said he saw Brothers in the tunnel near the scene of the murder said he had on a straw hat. One of those who testified to seeing him flee from the tunnel said he was carrying a hat and all the others said he was bareheaded.

Police Officer Anthony Ruthy, who chased a man after the shooting, said the man bent over and fumbled inside his coat while he was running as if to draw out a cap.

The plans of the defense appeared to be indefinite. Each of the three lawyers representing the St. Louisan indicated, however, that Brothers himself would take the stand, probably just long enough to testify he never knew Lingle and knew nothing of the killing.

Attorney Tyrrell Krum said, "We have an alibi, but don't know yet whether to use it." The defense lawyers have said they had witnesses who saw a man run from the Lingle slaying scene and would testify Brothers was not that man.

Behind the Screens

With NELSON B. BELL

IT MIGHT seem to the average movie-goer that this kissing business on the screen is a wholly spontaneous matter. Far from it! Take the scene from "The Passionate Sonata," for instance—it is Duane Hennessy, on the side-lines in Hollywood, who makes the request—in which Dolores Costello (Mrs. John Barrymore) returns to the screen for Warner Bros.

Director Hobart Henley places Mrs. Costello on a window bench, sits Warren Williams, the handsome hero, eight inches away, and retires to his place behind the camera.

Williams puts his right arm around Miss Costello's waist and gently edges the star to his heaving bosom.

"Stop!" shouts Henley. "You can't shift Dolores over that much, there's a shadow falling on her from the light above. I think it's your nose." Not that Mr. Williams is over proboscised.

So they change their positions. It is agreed that Williams shall bend toward Miss Costello. Again his arm twines around her waist. He leans, kisses her perfectly.

"Nope!" shouts Henley. "Don't print that!" (This last to the cameraman). "You kissed her too high."

A little discussion brings out that while the kiss may have been artistically correct, it wasn't a good screen kiss. The spectator will notice, whenever two players kiss on the screen and the man inclines his head toward the camera, that he kisses the girl below, not on, the mouth.

It all goes back to perspective. It has been shown that a kiss on the lips, such as ordinary folks indulge in, comes out on the screen like a kiss on the girl's nose! Remember that, when the newsreel cameraman asks you to do your stuff!

After a few more rehearsals that seem to get them nowhere, Mr. Henley finally compromises by having them both face the camera flatly and then turn their heads to be kissed.

"What about it?" he asks the cameraman.

"Well, I'll tell you," says that functionary, "the composition was spoiled. The closeup was adjusted before you decided that Dolores was not to move toward Williams. So when she doesn't move, the camera continues to focus on her. It takes in her head and also her neck. That isn't composition. It looks as if Miss Costello's neck continues for miles, while it should have been cut off (in the camera, of course,) just below her chin."

Spontaneous? Yes, indeed! This one only took 50 minutes!

The newsreels are prolific in interesting personalities again this week. Among those who may be heard as well as seen are President Hoover on his West Indies junket; Mrs. Hoover, addressing the Girl Scouts over the radio; Clark Griffith and Walter Johnson with the ball team in Biloxi, both predicting that we will be "up in there" all the way, and the Prince of Wales, opening the Industrial Exposition in Buenos Aires in both Spanish and English.

It seemed just a bit startling to hear Wales addressing the multitudes in flawless Spanish, although I do not know why it should. King Alfonso XIII, as has been frequently demonstrated, speaks extremely good English—and the boys are cousins, or something, aren't they?

Of course, you remember Charles Irwin, master of ceremonies in the "Way Back When" revue at the Fox this week, in the same capacity in John Murray Anderson's production of "The King of Jazz," for Universal, with Paul Whiteman and his band the collective stars.

Certainly, you knew him the minute he walked out—I shouldn't wonder!

By the time a few more things have happened in one or more of the theaters under his so-called territorial control, it may finally penetrate the comprehension of a certain officious young executive, slightly over-inflated with authority, that his policy may not, after all, be 100 per cent bullet-proof. You can't run 'em successfully from a glass-topped desk on Broadway or a compartment in a Pullman car.

Warning is hereby given that you had better look out for some pretty swell entertainment beginning on Friday and Saturday of this week. Easter week, along with Labor Day week and Thanksgiving week, is one of the best known to the theater business and the boys making the bookings usually govern themselves accordingly.

The gentleman who drove his automobile between those two street cars presumably had been looking at too many Mack Sennett comedies—the only place where it can be done successfully!

Oklahoma Campus Immorality Denied

Investigator of University Finds Nothing to Tell Senate.

Oklahoma City, March 30 (A.P.).—Informed there was nothing to tell them about student morals at the University of Oklahoma, State Senate investigators gathered tonight to hear details concerning alleged misuse of funds by faculty members and employes and hints of immorality directed at a teacher.

Picking apart Gov. W. H. Murray's charges of "flagrant immorality" and misuse of State money, the legislative committee drew from Alva McDonald, the governor's private investigator, names of four persons he said were involved in affidavits concerning expenditures.

McDonald testified he had not been instructed to probe campus morality and found no evidence of student wrongdoing, but that he had obtained a statement attacking the morality of "one teacher."

RULER GIVES CROSS, BIBLE TO CATHEDRAL

King of Ethiopia Expresses Gratitude for Prayer of Bishop Freeman.

Haile Selassie, Select of God, Emperor of Ethiopia, liked the prayer offered by Bishop James E. Freeman at the Washington Cathedral on the day of his coronation.

He was so vastly pleased, in fact, that he had it published in his native language so that all his feudal chieftains and ecclesiastic authorities might read.

And yesterday, to express his gratitude, he presented a Bible covered with gold and silver, and an elaborately fashioned processional cross, to the Washington Cathedral.

Wallace S. Murray, chief of the division of Near Eastern affairs of the State Department, made the presentation. It was the State Department that first called the prayer to his attention.

In a letter to Bishop Freeman, the Abyssinian ruler expressed hope that the religious tributes will be kept at the Cathedral in remembrance of him and Ethiopia.

The Bible, like the Cross, is a product of native craftsmanship. It is 10 by 14 inches, bound in purple plush, covered with silver and washed in gold. Within are the four gospels in Amharic, the official and court language of Ethiopia, and on the four corners of the cover are miniatures of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. At the center, the gold has been molded to form a crucifix.

The cross, measuring 21 inches by 26, is of silver and is washed in gold. It is covered with intricate designs.

Abyssinia is one of the oldest Christian countries in the world, according to Bishop Freeman, who yesterday gratefully acknowledged the gifts. He said the Bible will become a part of the cathedral's collection of sacred literature. The cross probably will be carried on occasion at cathedral services.

Frank Romer Will Open Advertising Office Here

The Romer Advertising Service will be opened in the Woodward Building tomorrow by Frank Romer, who has withdrawn his interests in a Baltimore and New York advertising firm.

Mr. Romer formerly headed a business in Washington for nine years. Then he became a partner in the Thomsen-Ellis Co., of Baltimore, a year and a half ago. Other activities as special consultant to several large advertisers have kept him from the city. Mr. Romer's present plans are to devote himself to the advertising problems of Washington business.

Financiers' Trial Again Is Delayed

Failed United States Bank Directors Are Charged.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—Trial of four of the eight directors indicted on charges of felony in the failure of the Bank of United States was delayed by death today just as it was about to open.

While a "blue ribbon" panel of jurors waited in general sessions for questioning, Charles H. Tuttle, of defense counsel, asked postponement for a day so he might attend a funeral.

The defendants are Bernard K. Marcus, president of the bank; Saul Singer, executive vice president; Herbert Singer, his son and president of one of the bank's affiliates, and Henry W. Pollock, a vice president and director. The others will be tried later.

Bomb Is Exploded Near Turin Palace

No Damage Is Suffered; Several Alleged Reds Are Arrested.

Turin, Italy, March 30 (A.P.).—It was disclosed today that a crudely made bomb containing black powder exploded yesterday morning in the Piazzo Castello, close to the wing of the royal palace occupied by Prince Humbert, heir to the Italian throne, and his wife, Princess Marie Jose.

An army lieutenant leading a squad of soldiers into the square as the guard was changing kicked it out of the way and it exploded without doing any damage. Several alleged communists have been arrested in connection with the incident, but none so far as is known has been directly connected with the bomb.

YOUTHS AT DANVILLE INSTITUTE WALK OUT

95 Cadets on Strike After Easter Holiday Pleas Are Denied.

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., March 30.—The student corps of Danville Military Institute went on strike here this afternoon following declination of Col. W. M. Kemper, superintendent, to a mandate from the student body that they be allowed an Easter holiday. Ninety-five youths were packing up tonight and leaving. Col. Kemper said that if there were not sufficient cadets on hand tomorrow morning to establish classes the school would be closed and the board of trustees called.

The situation developed Thursday when, Col. Kemper said, he was presented with a petition signed by most of the cadets asking for an Easter holiday. Col. Kemper said he declined to accede because of the Government inspection on April 9 and the demoralizing effect the holiday would have.

On Sunday, the student body assembled and formed a students council and a committee waited on Col. Kemper and renewed the request. At that time Col. Kemper made it clear that the faculty could not entertain a demand from the student corps on a major question of policy. Again today the students assembled and asked Col. Kemper to appear, but he stood "pat." The students then filed out and began packing.

Among students it was said that failure to grant the cadets a holiday on George Washington's birthday, which fell on Sunday, caused some displeasure. Others said elimination early in the school year of the "rat rule" had made a bad impression. Some of the cadets admitted they thought the strike was bad policy, but intended to go through with it because they had given their word of honor.

Col. Kemper said cadets who leave would be permitted to return "on my own terms," and that he was doing nothing to prevent their departure.

Romance STILL LIVES IN TRAVEL

"IT'S a Moorish palace!", say those who first see the stately old structure pictured here.

Not so! This is San Xavier Mission, in the colorful southwest corner of our own United States. One of the many spots of rare beauty, best reached by motor bus.

But you don't have to go cross-continent to find unusual and romantic places, when you travel by motor coach. They are scattered along your local highways on the way to neighboring cities and communities. Thousands of people use this modern travel way to see more, enjoy more fully, the thrill and beauty of all outdoors.

Of course bus travel costs less—dollars less on nearly every ticket. It is more enjoyable too—more convenient, more flexible, more comfortable. Try it and see for yourself.

Twelve Spring Brides Arrange For Weddings

Srta. Tessala-Guzman to Be Wed to Mr. Willett on April 11.

SOCIETY, reckoning its spring brides, will take its weddings on the scale of an even dozen this Easter time. Auspiciously slipping below the unlucky thirteen, the brides, who wend their way through channels that course within the maze of Washington society are marshalling their attendants and "giving out" their wedding plans.

Comes first Senorita Lucia Tessada-Guzman, daughter of Senora de Prieto, wife of the Military Attache of the Cuban Embassy, with completed arrangements for her wedding on April 11 to Mr. James Foster Willett. The wedding will take place at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church.

Miss Tessada-Guzman has chosen for her maid of honor Miss Ruth Wolstenholme, of Philadelphia. Her bridesmaids will be Miss Starr Eaton, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Charles A. Eaton, of New Jersey; Miss Mathilda Frederic Meyer, Miss Dorothy Mayer and Miss Justine Corby, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Margaret West, of Washington.

Mr. Willett has asked Mr. Enrique Augusto Tessada-Guzman to be his best man. He is a brother of the bride. The ushers will include six Washington men and two Virginians, Mr. Tenwick Marsh, Mr. Milton Anderson, Mr. Charles C. Clark, Mr. James Twohey, Mr. Woodward Post, Mr. Guy Love, all of the Capital, and Mr. Frank Davison, of Lynchburg, and Mr. Bus Kern, of Winchester.

A reception at the Chevy Chase Club will follow the ceremony.

Among the interesting parties announced in honor of the bride are a luncheon at the Mayflower by Miss Betty Davison on April 6, a dinner the following day by the Misses Meyer, two prenuptials on Wednesday, April 8, when Mrs. Osmun Latrobe will entertain at the Army and Navy Club, and Miss Margaret West will give a dinner, and on Thursday, April 9, Miss Corby will also give a dinner.

The ushers will entertain at a bachelor dinner for Mr. Willett on April 7, and on April 10 Mr. Willett will give his bachelor dinner.

Countess Alice Szechenyi, daughter of the Minister of Hungary and Countess Szechenyi, has announced no wedding plans, although she also will be married sometime in April to Count Bela Hadik, of Budapest. Whether she will have her sisters among her attendants has not been announced. There are four beautiful sisters—Countess Cornelia, Gladys, Sylvia and Nandine—all of whom are now in Washington, where the ceremony probably will take place, although nothing definite has been announced concerning the "time, the place or the girls."

Also in the list of "indefinite plans" falls the wedding of Miss Gertrude Lamont, daughter of the Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Lamont, who has selected the "time and the place" for her marriage to Mr. Charles Eskridge Saltzman, son of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles McKay Saltzman, of Washington. It will take place on May 2 in Washington.

Lending a bit of "additional romance" to her wedding, Miss Elizabeth Baltz will journey to Paris for her wedding which will take place on April 25 when she will be the bride of Mr. Samuel Scrivener, jr., who is in business there. Mrs. Baltz will sail with her daughter on Friday from New York.

They will be accompanied by Mrs. Earl D. Krewson.

The wedding will be held at noon in American Episcopal Church. The bride will wear a gray suit, with accessories to match. On their wedding trip, the couple will go to Lake Constance and later to Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ellwood Jones have returned to their home on Belmont road after passing a month in Bermuda. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Nancy Jones, and their son, James, jr.

The Solicitor General and Mrs. Thomas D. Thacher have with them for the spring vacation, their daughter, Miss Sally Thacher, who frequently visits her parents in their Georgetown home, which they leased a year ago from the United States Minister to El Salvador and Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins.

Miss Thacher spends much of her time in New York and is also taking some courses at Smith College. Her engagement was announced some time ago and it was expected that the wedding would take place in the spring, but nothing further is forthcoming about the plans. Miss Thacher brought with her for the short visit, a school friend, Miss Nan Hall. They will return to Smith College the end of the week.

Janet Sheppard Held Prettiest Girl on Campus

Daughter of Senator Is Honored at Texas University.

Scoring over a large number of coeds at the University of Texas, Miss Janet Sheppard, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Morris Sheppard, of Texarkana, has been selected for the beauty page in the 1931 Cactus, year book of the university. The final selection of the judges was made from eight of the most beautiful girls on the campus at Austin, Tex.

Miss Sheppard, who is a senior at Texas U., was recently chosen a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity. She is also a member of Pi Beta Phi. She only entered upon her college work in Texas last fall, having taken the junior course at George Washington University following her graduation from Holton Arms. Although most of the girls in her set came out last year in Washington, Miss Sheppard elected to launch a career and selected the Southern university for the medium.

Possessing a personality quite distinctive, Miss Sheppard has been called one of the Capital's loveliest "official" girls. Small, dark and piquant, she presents a type of rare beauty that is almost exotic.

Senator and Mrs. Sheppard have two younger daughters, Miss Susan Sheppard and Miss Lucile Sheppard, who are attending school in Washington, and will remain here until the close of the school term, their mother staying with them. Senator Sheppard will leave today for his Texas home, but probably will return in the early summer to accompany Mrs. Sheppard and their daughters to the South.

May Day will see Miss Adair Childress become the bride of Mr. Francis Meade Tompkins, and on that "day of days in spring" Miss Marian Alice Moulden and Ensign P. B. Blackburn, jr., will be married.

The April brides who will engage the interest of Washington society include a number of charming girls, two of them now living out of the city: Miss Mary Reed, daughter of Col. Walter Lawrence Reed, U. S. A., and Mrs. Reed, will have a brilliant wedding in Georgia, where her marriage to Lieut. Charles Royce, U. S. A., aid de camp to Maj. Gen. Campbell King, the commandant there, will take place on April 22.

Miss Reed is the granddaughter of Mrs. Walter Reed, widow of Maj. Reed, for whom Walter Reed Hospital was named. "Daisy" Reed, as she is affectionately known here, where she made her debut at the Army War College, will have besides her maid of honor six attendants. The wedding will take place at Trinity Church, Columbus.

Miss Elizabeth Caldwell and Miss Dorothy Wills will take their places in the brides' procession of April 6; Nancy James Adams and Jane Eynon have selected April 8; the marriage of Suzanne Park, daughter of the United States Consul at Biarritz, and Mr. Henry Ammidown, of Seattle, will be an outstanding event in New York on April 10.

Other April brides who have announced most of their wedding plans include Mlle. Elizabeth Van Swinderen, daughter of the Netherlands Minister to London, whose wedding will take place in the British Capital, and Miss Florence Hamburger, of Los Angeles, and Mr. Frederick C. Bryan, of Washington, to be married in Los Angeles April 23.

The marriage of Miss Billie E. Amtman to Mr. Milton S. Sachs, both of Chicago, took place on Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Sachs will reside in Washington. They will be at home after April 15 at 2145 C street.

Maj. and Mrs. Davis B. Wills will return today after spending the winter in Florida.

Dawes Family Here From Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, of Chicago, and their daughter, Miss Mary Dawes, are passing a few days at the Mayflower. Miss Dawes passed the early part of the winter in Washington while studying for the foreign service. Miss Dawes will probably take the oral examinations for the service this spring, but whether she will enter upon the career rests with her father, who feels that he would rather have her at home.

Miss Dawes made many friends while in Washington this winter and was one of the most popular girls of the younger set. Attractive and vivacious, she was an addition to any party, and during her short stay here this week will be bidden to the few fetes that mark Holy Week.

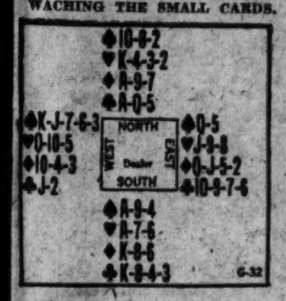
WORK ON BRIDGE

WACHING THE SMALL CARDS.



THE bidding was very simple in the above hand played in a Contract Bridge game. South called one No Trump and North three. In Auction Bridge South's one No Trump would be followed by three passes unless North should bid two to keep East from bidding; in this hand an unnecessary precaution, but North would not know that. In the play West led the Six of Spades and East played the Queen. South ducked the first and second rounds, but he had to win the third with his Ace. Then Declarer tried to make up South's fourth Club, but the suit was not evenly divided and East was left with a good Club. South then led a small Heart, and when West played the Five, Declarer could read that East would have to overtake that trick if North ducked as the Declarer had all the Hearts smaller than the Five in his dummy. Consequently East was allowed to win the trick and cash his good Club; but after that the adversaries could take no more tricks and Declarer won his game by capturing one Spade, three Hearts, two Diamonds and three Clubs. Was there any defense?

The Correct Play.

Declarer's play was very clever, but if West, who could see all the small hearts in dummy, had played the Ten on the first round of Hearts, North could not have ducked as doing so would have left West in the lead to cash his good Spades. Played in that way a thirteenth Heart could not have been established without West's obtaining the lead, so game would have been saved.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFARRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Cave" (also written "Caves") has come down to us from several sources. In many cases it has the obvious meaning of "he who lives near the cave." There are two villages called "Cave" in Yorkshire. They were so called because of being situated near caves or caverns. Many families which bear this name have received it because of a former residence in one of those villages. Sometimes "Cave" is derived from "Cava." "Cava" was an old personal name derived from the Anglo Saxon adjective "caf" meaning "prompt" and "bold." There is evidence that in a few cases "Cave" is of French origin, having been first given as a nickname meaning "bald." The Hundred Rolls mentions a certain Roger de Cave, and a Robert de Cave. An English register of the year 1379 includes the name of Willelmus del Cave. In Ireland "Cave" has occasionally been adopted by families whose original name was "Mac Dhaidhidh." This Irish name really means "the son of David." The personal name "David" is ultimately of Hebrew origin, and means "beloved."

The family name "Cavell" (also spelled "Cavel") has frequently come into English through the French, and is still a rather common name in France. It generally means "the little bald person," although there is evidence that in some cases its original significance is "the little prompt person." However, this name has often become confused with "Cavill." A church record of the year 1353 bears the name of John Cavel, a minister.

The family name "Cavill" indicates a former residence in the town of Cavil in Yorkshire. This place-name is a modern shortened form of "Cave-hill" which means "the hill with a cave" or "the hill near a cave."

Jane Corbin INTERPRETS the MODE

A delightful "little" dress in blue alpaca, with blouse of white crepe georgette embroidered rather elaborately at the sleves, and tiny tie and skirt insert of figured shantung. (Courtesy of Poiret, Paris.)

Paris, March 30.

I DON'T think the great variety in the present mode is anywhere so apparent as in the many shapes and forms the jacket takes on. Everything is called a jacket, from the little waist-length bolero to the three-quarter redingote!

The finger-tip length jacket is the most popular form for sports and daytime wear. These are worn with or without a belt. The really smart kind are straight in line, with no incurve at the waist. They can be contrasted or matched to the costume they accompany. When the latter, they are often sleeveless and full-length sleeves of the blouse or frock look as if they belonged to the jacket.

All of Jenny's jackets, and almost all her daytime clothes have three-quarter sleeves. These jackets are worn with gauntlet gloves, the cuffs of which are appliqued with the same material as the costume—so that it looks as if the cuffs were part of the jacket. And there are also the three-quarter sleeved jackets from which the ornamental lower sleeve of the blouse or frock shows.

Many suits are accompanied by jackets having the flared or flat peplum—the upper part of the jacket being closely fitted to the figure. Others have the cutaway tuxedo type of jacket in a contrasting color, while still others are worn with Eton blouse jackets either waist-length or hip-bone length.

One well-known Paris couturier has launched a costume having two jackets, no less! The jackets are of contrasting colors and the shorter one is worn on the outside. An example of this is a black crepe satin frock with a red peau d'ange finger-tip length cutaway jacket and a waist-length jacket worn over this of the black crepe satin. I assure you the effect was very dashing!

I can absolutely promise you that if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet, you will be able to make yourself some very practical and yet charmingly fussy "panties" to wear under your smooth hipped summer dresses. Besides that, this basic pattern which has been offered to you before, oh, months ago, takes just one yard of material per bloomer which makes it even more interesting! Using this basic design, you can indulge in all sorts of interesting variations achieved with lace incrustations, bindings, combinations of material, and what nots. Aren't you interested?

A certain famous French modiste is designing a fall collection of hats inspired by the different types of wee hats and bonnets worn during different periods and in different countries of the past. Nothing so simple as Juliette's little bonnet, oh, no! But hats like the three she let me illustrate for you today, each one, as you can see, inspired by a different age and a different country.

These hats are going to be not only for afternoon and evening wear, but the little felts and velvets for daytime are going to be Mong the same lines. And while the lines will be almost identically those worn by our lovely heroines of history, fiction and art, the materials with which they are made will be sufficiently modern to give these hats the twentieth century air which they must have for chic.

• • • •

Blue alpaca, a belt effect and tie of printed shantung, and a white crepe georgette blouse with elaborate sleeves embroidered in silk, contribute to the real charm of this Poiret outfit I have illustrated for you today. All the little details are important, you see.

Of course you'll not forget to look for Dare's Weekly Fashion Letter in each Sunday's big Washington Post.

Au revoir!

FRANCES M'DONALD

Silence Pays.

Dear Francis McDonald—I have never seen a problem like mine discussed in your column so I hope to see mine answered? When my husband and I are on speaking terms he is very bossy, fussy, and fault-finding. Begins to nag and criticise the minute he enters the apartment. If it is not too warm it is too cold. If the windows are open they should be shut. If shut why don't I let in a little air? &c. It is maddening. It goes on all evening, and every evening. If friends come in he criticizes everything that is said and done and if we go out he tells me what I did that I should not. Just picks on me till I do not know what to do.

He is a lawyer. He loves to argue. No matter what, he takes the other side. He will be utterly in the wrong but expects me to say he is right. I feel I have a right to hold my opinion and give my reason then there is a quarrel.

My daughter is only 9 years old. But she is just like him. She must be heard on everything. The home is terrible with opinions being shouted back and forth. I can not stand it. Should I leave him and try to get some peace out of life? I have no profession and have been married 12 years. But feel anything would be better than this.

Please advise me. IRWIN.

Well, suppose now that you have given up your home and child. You have found a job at $12 a week at some unskilled labor, or are caring for some other woman's child, or some other woman's home. What is the very first thing that you will face? The necessity of keeping your opinions to yourself. Your job will be to "yes" someone eight hours a day for $12 a week. Will you have solved your problem intelligently? Personally I would rather yes a husband than any other kind of boss. For a husband would always have his doubts about the completeness of my faith in his limitless perspicacity. I would know that he was always thinking of himself. "That little spitfire is grinning at me and I would like to choke her." And accordingly would grow wary of those ready yesses of mine. And wary too of airing too many opinions too loudly. Whereas a regular $12 a week boss would be thinking. "Poor slave. To her I am a god. Her livelihood. Big business. How different she is from my wife who knows I am a fool." &c.

Husbands are terrible. No use in arguing about that. A worse institution was never thought of nor ever will be. Grunting, groaning, roaring, raving. Always something the matter with them. Always out of order. Always in the way. Yelling for collar buttons, yelling for love. But. And you can answer the but if you can, for we can't. The "but" is the answer. Your answer and mine.

Lawyers must argue. We have laws and law courts so that they can indulge this vice. Listening to them one wonders, but says nothing. They can prosecute a man for murder one day and defend a man for the same outrage the next. That for lawyers and their opinions. You have one in your home. You would rather have him practice his oratory in the privacy of the home than elsewhere, would you not? Bad enough for you to know how seriously he takes himself. So hereafter when he starts, do just what the jury always do. Set your face in an expression of intelligent attention and hold it. No matter what idiocy you hear uttered, betray nothing. Begin to plan what you will have for dinner next Monday when the Jones come and let it go at that. When you hear a silence, say "I never thought of it just that way." And call it a day. If it does not work I do not know lawyers.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

PLEASE tell me the definite heat requirements of a pandanus, also of a dracena frangrans.
MARGARET T. P.

Pandanus veitchii, commonly called screw pine, and dracena frangrans, will grow in a place where the temperature remains about 55 degrees Fahrenheit at night and with a temperature from 70 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit during the day.

What can be grown under the dense shade of a Norway maple tree, I have one such place on my lawn?
ALICE T. E.

I do not want to be discouraging, but the only thing I can suggest is Japanese spurge, a ground-cover plant. This may be induced to do well. Aside from this all you can do is to keep reseeding with grass seed. You may resow four times during a season, but the grass will last only a few weeks.

Are there some perennials which must be several years old before they bloom? I refer to plants grown from seed. AN AMATEUR GARDENER.

Yes. Aconitum, baptista, peony, primula and helleborus come under this classification.

Are blueberries and huckleberries the same? MRS. THOMAS B. T.

No. The blueberry belongs to the genus vaccinium, a berry with seeds so small you do not notice them when eating the fruit. The huckleberry is a gaylussacia, a berry with larger seeds, a coarser type of fruit.

Please tell me what insects or diseases are apt to attack sweet peas which I have started in pots in my hot bed. I want to avoid such a tragedy if possible. JANE W. P.

Plant lice are the most potent enemy of the sweet pea. The best weapon with which to combat this insect is nicotine. This does not mean spasmodic, but constant spraying—and I might add that the solution must actually hit the insects. Therefore, be sure the nicotine reaches both sides of the foliage and stems. As a rule, sweet peas are not liable to disease. Should disease appear spray with Bordeaux mixture.

Is it true that constant spraying with cold water is a good remedy for red spiders? I have a small conservatory, which is a new departure for me. Unfortunately I am beginning to see traces of red spiders. My florist told me to begin syringing with water. I hope you may know of some less laborious method of getting rid of these pests. MRS. REGINALD B.

Cold water is the remedy for red spiders. These insects thrive in a warm dry air, but are soon discouraged if a moist, dry atmosphere is maintained.

Please tell me how much grass seed to sow over an area of 125 square feet. CHARLES T. U.

One-half pound of grass seed and one-quarter of a pound of white clover is about right for so small an area. Sow the clover seed after sowing the grass seed. I suggest this because it is heavier than the grass seed.

Please tell what to do for a fern which is potbound.
MRS. CASPER H. Y.

Transplant the fern, using a pot only one size larger.

What Today Means to You

"ARIES."

IF March 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from 4:15 p. m. to 6:10 p. m. The danger hours are from 9:30 a. m. to 10:45 a. m., from 2:45 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The planetary aspects of March 31 are somewhat nebulous and difficult to interpret. Under such conditions, more than ordinary care should be exercised, and nothing new should be essayed. Toward sundown the signs become distinct and bright and augur well for affairs of the heart.

Children born on this March 31 will face two besetting weaknesses: Timidity and sensitiveness. They must be made to mix freely with others, so that they may lose their excessive self-consciousness. They will be intellectual, and, as they learn to forget themselves, will become attractive and entertaining.

Yours is a hard character to analyze if you were born on March 31. You are not congenial, are not a good mixer, but are a quixotically loyal friend. Your emotions are very powerful, but you take such pains to hide them that most people look upon you as cold and indifferent. You have strong religious inclinations, but are not a disciple of the orthodox. Criticism has little or no effect on your actions. You go your own way regardless of convention or advice.

You are bored with society and do not hesitate to express your thoughts in a plain and an outspoken way. With it all, however, you rarely offend. You can tell unpalatable truths in a manner that disarms resentment, but your words have after effects that cause others to think.

You are always struggling upward, fighting that something within yourself which is forever trying to drag you down. You force yourself to work, although your national desire is to loaf. Your judgment of others, and the motives that actuate them, is almost uncanny, and you are rarely "let down"—either socially or financially. Although not ambitious, you will be successful, and your home life, where you are your natural self, will be replete with happiness.

Sixteen Best Stories

Out of the vast number of short stories published within the past year—no one knows how many were printed—The Washington Post has obtained sixteen selected by editors of leading magazines, writers and critics. They are actually the cream of short fiction for a whole year brought together for the readers of The Washington Post's Sunday Magazine. As originally published these stories represent an investment running into thousands of dollars for they are by authors whose names and work stand for the highest ideals, greatest technical skill and, best of all, ability as story-tellers.

This collection is an outstanding achievement in the literary field and one whose merits are certain to win the approval of the readers of The Washington Post Sunday Magazine.

Man! They've hit it this time!

You're hearing it all around you.

You've probably said it yourself.

Throughout the whole country, people not only are smoking Camel cigarettes in the new Humidor Pack, they're saying how good they are!

They're delighting in a new mildness; an aroma and fragrance found only in Camels.

They're learning how much smooth cool enjoyment is locked up in fine Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos expertly blended, vacuum cleaned and properly conditioned.

They're grateful for new throat-ease!

Natural moisture, that's what does it!

Factory-fresh Camels air-sealed in the new sanitary package which keeps the dust and germs out and keeps the flavor in.

Don't take our word for it—try Camels in the new Humidor Pack, and switch back if you can.

Then you'll see why the whole nation is saying:

SEPTIC TANKS.

J. S. writes: Could you write an article about septic tanks for use where there is no sewage system available? What are the bacteria that set upon the night soil to liquefy it? Have ordinary maggots anything to do with it, as there is, I believe, a common notion that these latter play some part in the process? It is also thought that putting bread into the toilet has a favorable hastening action. Is it so? Can anything be done to start up the reaction in the tank?

REPLY.

Septic tanks are in wide use where there is no connection with sewers and they should be used much more frequently than they are. The yard privy is all right from the health standpoint when it is properly constructed; where the soil is of the right kind; where there is no direct seepage into a well, stream, or lake used for water supply; and where the house is used by a few people only. Under other circumstances some kind of tank should be used. A septic tank is one form and a good one for use where more complicated systems are not called for.

In a septic tank the sewage flows very slowly and bacteria have an opportunity to do their work. The bacteria are known as anaerobis because they work in media that contain very little oxygen. They are also known as liquefiers.

While the septic tank action is called one of purification, and the term is the right one in part, a better one is liquefaction. The bacteria convert solids into gases and liquids. The gases escape into the air through the vents, the liquids flow off through pipes as effluents. Neither gas nor effluent is wholly purified nor wholly inoffensive. Both contain putrefaction products that have been put in condition for rapid purification. In other words, the septic tank action is a preputrefaction process, a first step toward the ultimate. The preparation having been made, the ultimate is rather easily attained.

In making use of a septic tank the chief necessity is for right operation, especially avoidance of overloading. Next in order is right construction. Whether throwing bread into a tank in operation would be of service I do not know. I never knew of it being done, nor had I read of it prior to receiving your letter. I would advise you to try seeding, as is done with the activated sludge method. That consists in throwing a shovel of material from an old privy into the septic tank. The best material is some liquid taken from a concrete or brick vault privy.

RICH BLOOD.

F. D. writes:

1. How can a person tell if his blood is very rich?

2. Will taking yeast clear up the complexion when a person's blood is rich?

3. Is yeast a body builder?

REPLY.

1. By an examination made with blood-measuring instruments.

2. Probably not.

3. It is rich in vitamin B complex and, therefore, is of service whenever there is need for this vitamin.

WEAKNESS IS THE CAUSE.

Mrs. C. A. H. writes: Can you give cause and remedy of fallen arches?

REPLY.

A better name for fallen arches is weak foot. The most important cause is weakness of the muscles, tendons, and ligaments of the foot. Toeing out is an important contributing cause. This makes the foot roll and the main arch flatten. Obesity is a contributing cause.

Among the cures are walking pigeon-toed, building up the muscles of the foot and lower leg, losing weight.

A conglomeration of articles that ranges from two complete sets of false teeth to almost anything of a portable nature is to be sold, if a petition of the Washington Terminal Co. is acceptable to the District Supreme Court.

The company yesterday asked the court's indulgence in a public sale of articles that have been left in the station. The accumulation is such that the lost and found quarters are becoming cramped. The Terminal Co. enumerates baby carriages, golf balls, the teeth and scores of other articles.

WEAK BATTING DISMAL FEATURE OF NATS' SPRING PLAY;

12,000 SEE SERGT. DONALDSON ROMP HOME AT BOWIE

5 Titles Won By J. C. C. Boxers

Decision to Bordeau Over Vance Booed by Audience.

Miller Takes Welter Crown by K. O.; Boys Club Scores.

EIGHT District amateur boxing champions, ranging from a little peanut of a fighter named Louis Gevinson to hte ponderous Ralph Carpenter, were crowned last night at the Rockville High Gymnasium in the final rounds of the second annual District A. A. U. title fights before an audience 1,200 strong.

Every conceivable sort of competition, from knockouts that came before the sound of the opening gong had stilled to three-round fistfests which were so close at to send a long boo through the house cropped up on the card of eight bouts.

The Jewish Community Center, with all of its five entrants in the finals being crowned District champions, maintained its place high in the local fistic sun.

Crowd Boos 10 Minutes At Bordeau Verdict.

Perhaps the feature bout of the evening was the one in which LeRoy Bordeau, the Georgetown University light-heavyweight, who fights under the Jewish Community Center colors, defeated Frank Vance, of the American Legion, in three rounds. The decision was booed fully ten minutes, an unprecedented state of affairs at an amateur bout, since any demonstration on the part of the audience is invariably squelched.

Bordeau appeared not to be in the best of condition. He started each of the three rounds aggressively enough, but wilted badly near the finish and resorted to hugging Vance, and once tackled him in the region of the knees. However, the judges believed that the leads he piled up in the early sequences of each round justified his being named champion.

Gevinson Stops Flyweight Foe.

Four bouts were decided by knockouts. The very first contest of the night produced a kayo, as Louis Gevinson, of the Boys Club, won the flyweight conpionship of Washington by dropping Willie Normile, of the American Legion, for the count after a minute and 25 seconds of the first round had passed.

In the bantamweight division Leon Shub, of the J. C. C., knocked out William S. Bender, of the American Legion, after a minute of fighting. The first solid blow Shub landed wrought the disaster.

Mike Tardugno, featherweight, gave the J. C. C. its second victory over the night with a decision victory over John Ryon, of the American Legion. Ryon went down in the first round, holding his lower stomach and claiming a foul, but Referee Hughes counted on, and Ryon was up at the toll of nine.

Red Boyle, dark horse of the lightweight division, came through in good style with a technical kayo over Ben T. Reed in the second round.

Jocko Miller, ace of the Jewish Community Center stable, is the new welterweight champion of Washington by dint of a knockout victory over Walter Anderson, of the Twentieth Marines, scored in the second round after Anderson had taken a bad beating in the first. The doctors attached to the tournament would not permit Anderson to continue, Miller having closed his eye and generally worsted him.

Michael Joseph O'Connor, of the Red Sox A. C., is the new middleweight champ of the city. The fiery Celt did away with J. Frank Nebel, of the Washington Canoe Club, after one minute and seven seconds of the second round had ticked away.

Ralph Carpenter, of the J. C. C., although outweighed by 20 pounds, captured the heavyweight title, besting Russell Wolfgram, of the American Legion, in three rounds. Wolfgram dropped Carpenter for the count of four in the opening round, but was beaten thereafter.

Poreda Wins Decision Over Johnny Risko

PRIMO LOOMS AS FOE OF SHARKEY

Johnson Has Signed Pair for Brooklyn Fight, Is Belief.

NEW YORK, March 30 (A.P.).—Despite official denials, the conviction grew today that Primo Carnera, the man mountain, and bombastic Jack Sharkey have agreed to a heavyweight battle at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn some time in June under the auspices of Jimmy Johnston.

Because of Carnera's lack of standing with the New York State Athletic Association and the board's strict rule forbidding promoters dealing with suspended fighters, none of the parties concerned would admit the negotiations, regardless of how far they may have gone. Carnera has been under commission ban here for a year.

His reinstatement is believed to depend upon his agreeing to box for Johnston, who recently switched from managing fighters to promoting at Ebbets Field, with the added proviso that the bout with Sharkey be staged in the interests of charity. Johnston said today he had Sharkey's verbal agreement for three matches this summer.

Chicago and Garden Seek Bout.

The situation, on the surface, is severely scrambled with Chicago interests and Madison Square Garden seeking the services of either Carnera, Sharkey, or both.

Max Schmeling, suspended here and stripped of title recognition for failure to give Sharkey a return match, is due to settle one half of the problem when he tackles young Stribling, the Southern contender, somewhere in the Midwest in June. A battle between Sharkey and Carnera would provide the second finalist for a match later in the summer that would produce an undisputed world champion.

Stribling Plane Crash Results in No Injury

Houston, Tex., March 30 (A.P.).—William L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia boxer, smashed the wings of his airplane this afternoon, when he was forced to land near Kendalton, 49 miles east of here. The forced landing came in a blinding rainstorm.

None of the party of five was injured.

Others in the plane were "Pa" Stribling, the fighter's father and manager; William G. Blanchard, of Miami, Fla.; J. L. McCord, of Quitman, Ga., and Jack Bell, sports editor of the Miami (Fla.) Herald.

W. and M. Beats Drexel Nine as White Fans 16

Special to The Washington Post.

Williamsburg, Va., March 30.—William and Mary officially opened its baseball season today by defeating Drexel Institute, of Philadelphia, 10-1. "Lefty" White, Indian frosh pitching ace of last year, hurled brilliant ball for seven innings, allowing but one hit and striking out sixteen batters.

The Indians scored eight runs in the first three innings, several extra base hits coupled with erratic fielding on the part of the visitors being responsible for this early onslaught. Ferrell tripled in the first inning, Broderick followed with a double to give William and Mary its first run.

Suddell, Drexel center fielder, banged out a home run in the eighth off Harkins, who relieved White, to score the visitors only run.

perfect ride by Robertson. Mrs. E. B. Chapman's Calgary Key finished strong, but just missed the place, second money going to Black Patricia. The field went away from the 7-furlong chute to a good start. The time was 1:27 2-5, faster than the feature later was run in. The winner paid $7.10. He outclassed the field and was at home in the heavy going.

Gilded Arch Comes Again to Win.

Otto Torrell's Gilded Arch, winner of the third race, had a hard scramble by the unexpected speed of the Glen Riddle filly, Hasten, which lived up to her name and got in front in the stretch, but Gilded Arch found the leader tiring and by a desperate effort made up the lost ground. Durva, from the Nevada Stock Farm, came in third, a nose behind Hasten. The winner paid $5. Time, 1:15, 6 furlongs.

Mrs. Frank Pullen was the next favorite to win by scoring by a length and a half in the fifth race, at a mile and a sixteenth. Workless was second and Panda third. D. E. Wishard tried to scratch Panda, but was denied permission. Francock set a fast early pace, followed by Workless. Workless ran Francock into defeat, and was in turn conquered by Pullen, which paid $4.40.

L. Haymaker's Negodale won the sixth race with D. Meade up and was a forward contender from the start, taking the lead at the stretch turn. He shook off Double O under punishment, but the latter held on for place. Ecstasy was third, beaten a head for second money. The winner paid $9.20.

Hades, which races for George Collins, another favorite, won the seventh race after being shuffled back in the first furlong. He was soon sent to the front and beat Royal Charge by a length and a half. Expense got third money, paying $16.60 to show. The winner paid $8.60.

Carey Reaches Chicago In Interest of Title Bout

Chicago, March 30 (A.P.).—The proposed world's heavyweight championship fight between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling took on added activity today with the arrival of William Carey, president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

Reports persisted that the promoters hoped to stage the bout at Soldiers Field, Chicago, June 19. Carey had an engagement to meet Sheldon Clark, millionaire Chicago sportsman, and members of the Illinois State Athletic Commission tomorrow.

Rumors that Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, who is now campaigning among the heavyweights, would supplant Stribling as Schmeling's opponent were denied.

Pitching Duel Won, 3-1, by Maryland

Milburn Yields Only 3 Hits to W. and L. Ball Team.

Hits by Gorman and Wilson, and Errors Turn Tide in 4th.

LEXINGTON, Va., March 30.—Washington and Lee showed good form this afternoon in the first Tri-State League game of the season, but Milburn, Maryland pitcher, coupled effectiveness with good support to beat the Generals, 3 to 1.

Successive singles by Routon and Mattox in the first inning gave the Generals a run and Fitzgerald was stranded on third after his long triple to right, but thereafter Johnnie Richardson was the only other Washington and Lee batsman to make a hit.

Wilson Drives in Tying Run.

Meanwhile Jack Jarrett was touched for a run in the second as Gorman hit to center, Cronin sacrificed and Wilson slapped a single over short to score the tying run. A series of misfortunes gave the Old Liners another run in the fourth. Gorman doubled with one out, Cronin fanned and Wilson laid a scratch hit in front of the plate and was safe as Jarrett slipped on the wet diamond. The ball slipped from Mattox's fingers as he threw down to second and the toss went into center field, allowing Gorman to score.

Routon's bobble on Berger's wallop, Chalmers' and Gorman's singles sent in the third run in the ninth.

Although the Old Line infield was guilty of five miscues, the Generals were unable to convert any runs. "Big Island" Routon fanned with the bases loaded in the fourth, and a fast double play killed off another scoring threat.

Fitzgerald's Triple Longest Hit.

Fitzgerald got the longest hit of the game as he sent a line drive out to the right-field reaches for three bases.

Jarrett pitched a good game, but his mates were not hitting. Gorman, stock first baseman for the Old Liners, led the attack with three hits in four trips, and scored two runs. Wilson got two hits, one of them a scratch single. The Generals meet Dartmouth here Wednesday.

Bank League Teams Tied for Bowling Lead

Washington Loan & Trust Co. and Riggs National Bank remain deadlocked in their battle for the leadership of the Bankers Duckpin League. The former team, however, has the advantage in total pins, leading their rivals by 364.

FAINT HOPE OF REDS RESTS ON THESE BOYS

Baseball men see little hope for the "patch work" Cincinnati Reds Club going through spring paces at Tampa, Fla. These boys, however, carry the bulk of what little there is—Bennie Frey and Red Lucas, right-handed hurlers; Leo "Gabby" Durocher, shortstop, and Nick Cullop, outfielder.

Stephenson and Grace Hit Home Runs in Slugfest.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 30 (A.P.).—The Atlanta Club of the Southern Association took a liking to Rube Walberg's pitching today and cracked out a 5-to-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics' first team in charge of Eddie Collins.

Walberg was nicked for nine hits, Doug Taitt, a former Red Sox outfielder, making three of them and being the leading run getter of the game. The A's could do little with two former big league pitchers, Blethen and Francis. They made five hits and bunched three of these in the fourth and fifth innings to gather in their runs.

Ruffing Hurls Yankees To 14-2 Victory.

Birmingham, Ala., March 30 (A.P.).

Charlie Ruffing breezed through nine innings in midseason form today as the New York Yankees trimmed Birmingham, of the Southern Association, 14 to 2.

The Yanks collected sixteen hits, including home runs by Tony Lazzeri and Lyn Lary, off the combined deliveries of Jim Edwards, Fielding Plue, Al. Granger and Art White, while Ruffing was holding the Southern nine to eight scattered hits.

Babe Ruth, playing six innings, was at bat four times, but a single and a base on balls was the best he could do.

Browns Arrive In Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., March 30 (A.P.).—This was "Hello, Georgia" day for the St. Louis Browns, booked to play the Atlanta Crackers here tomorrow in an exhibition game. Training days at West Palm Beach are over and it's going to be "here and there" for practice contests until the squad gets back to St. Louis.

Cleveland's Pitching Tests Delayed.

New Orleans, March 30 (A.P.).—The day of reckoning over the nine-inning route for Cleveland Indian pitchers was postponed for two days when rain prevented today's exhibition game with New Orleans and tomorrow's contest was canceled in respect to Ernest S. Barnard, late American League president. Willis Hudlin, right-hander, was cheated out of his full-game tryout to see if he is "coming back." He or Wesley Ferrell may get the call Wednesday.

Yannigans Rejoin Detroit Tigers.

San Francisco, March 30 (A.P.).—The so-called Yannigan squad of the Detroit Tigers was housed under the same roof with the first squad today for the first time since the teams separated at Sacramento two weeks ago. After a two-game series here, starting tomorrow, and five games in four days at Oakland, the entire Tiger squad will move Eastward, playing the Pittsburgh Pirates at Kansas City, Mo., and Decatur, Ill., en route.

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (U.P.).—The Chicago Cubs pounded out 22 hits to defeat Pittsburgh in an exhibition game here today, 18 to 8. Nine Cub runs came in the last two innings.

Stephenson and Grace hit home runs for the winners. Pie Traynor, of the Pirates, led the hitters with four hits in five times at bat, one a double. Jurges, rookie Cub infielder, got three hits in five times up, and Wilson did the same, but both got only singles. Two of the three hits Grimm got in five tries were doubles. Woody English made three hits in four attempts, one a triple.

Bradenton, Fla., March 30 (A.P.).—Gabby Street's Cardinals made full use of their hits and of Boston's errors to make it two straight over the Braves of Bill McKetchenie this afternoon, 5 to 4.

Bill McAfee, Bruce Cunningham and Bennie Cantwell held the Redbirds to six hits, but they bunched two of them with two errors to score three runs in the third frame and used two singles, a walk and a long fly to add two in the ninth.

Bradenton, Fla., March 30 (A.P.).—After being barred from the St. Louis Cardinals' training camp here for two days, Pitcher Dizzy Dean was restored to good standing today by Manager Gabby Street.

Repentant and tearful, the 20-year-old Texan asked Street for another chance today and was given permission to work out with the team. Gabby told him the next "false step" would mean a ticket for one of the Cardinal "farms." For some time Street and Dean have been unable to agree on when Dean should sleep. CLUB NAMED BY WESTERN COACH

Moore Picks Line-Up for Alexandria High Game Tomorrow.

SCHEDULED to inaugurate the local scholastic baseball season tomorrow with a game at Alexandria High, Western High's diamond team braved yesterday's nippy weather for a short but hard workout on the rockbound Western field. At the conclusion of the drill Coach Cliff Moore announced his line-up for the opening engagement on the schedule:

Fox, first base; Pimper, second base; Wilhoite, shortstop, and Clark, third base, will make up an infield which Moore believes is the smoothest workout unit the school has had in several seasons. Fox, at first, looks particularly good. He was a substitute last year, as was Pimper. Clark is the lone veteran in the infield.

The outfield will be composed of Hilleary, left; Oliver, center, and Taylor, right. Oliver and Taylor are from last year's nine, Hilleary has impressed more than most of the garden aspirants. He is the youngest of the Hilleary boys, who have made athletic fame at Western.

Buscher or Poel Will Pitch.

Either Buscher or Poore will pitch, but the expectation is that the former will start. Yowell will receive the major catching duties, but may be relieved by Fletcher.

Alexandria won last year's game, 10-9.

The inspection of the cadet corps of the Washington schools yesterday at Central Stadium precluded baseball practice for the Blue and White team, but when work resumes today Coach Rauber will wield the scythe to good effect. There are still 60 neophytes in Central uniforms which is almost 40 too many to Rauber's way of thinking.

Central is due to see service later on this week, being on the books to meet Emerson Thursday on the Monument Grounds. On Saturday Business and Episcopal are due to play at Alexandria, but both these games may be postponed, Central's because of the condition of the baseball diamonds at the Monument, and Business' because of the fact that no practice has been held by the Stenogs to date.

Tech was kept indoors again yesterday, its new field absolutely refusing to come around to playing condition. Tech is having a lot of trouble with the drainage on the field, and may have to resort to the Monument Grounds to get in shape for the season.

Eastern was out yesterday, with Coach Guyon concentrating on the few newcomers to the defending champions' ranks.

Columbia Petitions to Reinstall Coaches on College Nines' Benches

NEW YORK, March 30 (A.P.).—Opposition to the recent decision of officials of the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League barring coaches from the benches during the playing of league games developed today among Columbia players and threatened to spread to other teams in the circuit.

Edward Obey, of Pittsburgh, captain of the Lion Squad, sent a circular letter to the captains of the Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, Yale, Princeton and Cornell nines, comprising the league opposition, asking that they sign a petition calling for repeal of the "coachless" agreement. He enclosed a petition already signed by twelve of Columbia's thirteen letter men.

"I am reliably informed," the letter said, "that both Pennsylvania and Dartmouth favor repeal of the agreement."

The agreement was adopted at a meeting of officials at the suggestion of Dr. Charles W. Kennedy.

Obey said the agreement had been put through without consulting the wishes of the players themselves.

Cornell was understood to have opposed the plan from the outset, but agreed to go along with the league majority.

Club's Hitting In South Is Only .269

Manush, Rice, Judge Far Below .300 in Early Games.

Cronin, Harris and Hargrave Leaders of Attack.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Post Staff Correspondent).

BILOXI, Miss., March 30.—In every respect but hitting—the most important, except pitching—the Nationals seem to have struck their gait, but they have been woefully weak at the tee in their exhibition games to date. Including all games except the recent Varsity-Yannigan affair, the team average is a puny .269. These figures are based on the pill-pounding of all members in camp, exclusive of the moundsmen.

The old-timer, Coach Patsy Gharrity, leads the pack with a .500 rating, but as he is not being counted upon for regular service, the real leaders are Joe Cronin and Dave Harris, who are tied with marks of .400. "Pinky" Hargrave boasts a .417, but he has been at bat but twelve times.

Buddy Myer, Jack Hayes and Sammy West are the only regulars or near regulars with averages better than .300, while Ossie Bluege has just managed to reach these figures.

Judge's Few Blows Were Timely.

Heinie Manush, Joe Judge and Sam Rice, three of the Nats' dependables on attack, have been quite disappointing, their respective figures being .262, .293 and .136. Judge, however, has gotten several most timely blows, the result being that he ranks second to West in driving in runs, 8 to 6.

Here are the figures. Read 'em and weep.

Jones Will Oppose House of David.

On account of the funeral of the late American League president, E. S. Barnard, the Nats' game with the House of David Team has been postponed until Wednesday. It will be the Washington's Club's final appearance here. After looking at the posters advertising the game, which show every member of the House of David heavily bearded, "Sad Sam" Jones remarked to Manager Walter Johnson: "Those fellows look to be just about my age and I'd like to pitch against them." So Sam draws half of the Nats' pitching assignment, with Ad Liska taking over the other shift.

A drizzling rain and rough water prevented the whole Washington Club party from going on the boat ride staged this afternoon by the local Coast Guard base, only the real sailors taking the trip. The destination was the Isle of Caprice, which separates the Gulf of Mexico and the Mississippi Sound.

Upon reaching the island, which is only about 100 yards in width, the men fished with only fair success, while the women spent the afternoon picking up bright shells and other mementos of a similar type.

Skipper Johnson spent the afternoon in bed, resting from a fox hunt which started at 5:30 this morning. The foxes here, it seems, are like cats and run up thick slanting trees when the going gets rough. One was treed twice, Johnson and one of the dogs grabbing it when it was chased out of its refuge. All of the dogs except one young one were tied and Sir Reynard was given a chance to get away, which he did.

Physician Allays Crowder's Fears.

"General" Alvin Crowder woke up this morning with severe pains in his back and insisted that he was suffering from pleurisy and that a physician be called. The latter diagnosed the case "practically nothing," so the "General" is expected to be on the job again tomorrow.

The women of the party here will start for Washington tomorrow, when Mrs. Ad Liska and Mrs. Charles Fischer hit the trail. On Wednesday,

Pennant Lass Contender In Stake

Arrow Seen Winner of 2-Year-Old Race by Snodgrass.

Rocket Glare Is Given Call Over Titus in Third.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

THE official opening of the Eastern racing season comes today at Bowie with the $5,000 7 furlongs Inaugural Handicap as the feature of the program. This race is up for its ninth running. There were 25 entries for the race and the field is well balanced.

The Loma Stock Farm's MORSEL, which won his last three races at Miami, one at 6 furlongs, in which he beat Pennant Lass, and the other two at a distance, in which he trimmed Sandy Ford in one of them, seems to stand out in the field. He will carry 120 pounds, which should not be burdensome. By Vulcain, he comes by his heavy-track alertness honestly. J. H. Burke will ride him. His position is well in the center of the field, which is good insurance against being shut off. GENERAL A., one of the smartest of the 3-year-olds racing in the South, with the light impost of 109 pounds, winner of three Miami races, should be the contender at the weights. THISTLE ANN or PENNANT LASS should be third. PENNANT LASS' weight is heavy for her. It was demonstrated yesterday that horses having raced during the winter have the advantage of condition over horses idle during the cold months.

FIRST RACE—The first race is for maiden 2-year-old colts and geldings. ARROW is selected to win. He has never started, but in training at Benning the son of Assagai—Fair Florian outran anything there, and while he is on the also eligible list, he may get in. He is regarded as a real good prospect, and will be at a long price. PORTAM, the son of The Porter—Amaryilis, is regarded the contender, for the same reason that ARROW is selected, as having shown high promise in workouts. ESCOSTAR, seasoned at Miami, should figure in the race. WINGOVER, C. V. Whitney's entry, may be the favorite, but has not shown as much as those mentioned.

SECOND RACE — PROMETHEUS looks much the best in the second race on Florida form. He won his last three races there, beating Ellice in his last. HACKY H. should be the contender, but his weight is burdensome for him. He likes this track. The third horse should be EVERY-TIME.

THIRD RACE—If GENERAL A. starts in the third race, and not the Inaugural, he should win. LAVANTE is regarded the contender. He is from the William Ziegler Stable and is fit. SMEAR, C. V. Whitney's entry, has a chance and won his last race at this track last November.

FIFTH RACE—ROCKET GLARE, a much improved filly of S. W. Labrot, has the call in the fifth on New Orleans form, beating Martis last out. TITUS should be close. He beat SISTER ZOE in his last start in the South. COME ON has a good winter record and should be third.

SIXTH RACE—AIMEE GOLDSMITH, best in the sixth, will have MARYDALE as chief rival, no doubt. NEALON KAY is consistent and should hold the others safe. All have run well on the winter tracks.

SEVENTH RACE—MY SCOOP seems to have a slight edge on the field in the seventh, but SILVER SCEPTER has a chance and should be the contender, and his last race was a good one, losing by a nose to Lady Sweet. VOLTMETER should get third money.

SPEAKING —OF— TENNIS

By BOB CONSIDINE.

Speaking of junior tennis, it appears that Frank Shore has talked himself into a serious job. For several years now the junior champion has taken the junior situation to heart and honestly tried to make it a go. What with little enough cooperation from the local tennis association, and even less from his contemporaries, Shore successes along organization lines have not been prominent.

He has taken time, of course, to win the junior championship three straight times, a feat which hardly needs comment. Only a few times in tennis history has there been a junior trophy at stake which must be won three times. Twice is usually the span of legs needed to retire a cup in this field. To win a junior cup three times a boy must have won his first junior championship while still eligible for the boys' championship.

Well, anyway, Frank has made two impassioned speeches at the last two meetings of the Public Parks Association, and this time that long-suffering body has retaliated by making him chairman of the committee on junior tennis. It will be interesting to watch developments this coming year. Frank promises an intercity junior match or bust.

I fear my sojourn into golf, as cleverly disguised as it was, failed to fool my lone reader. I assume he is the only one reads this. Regularly I hear from him and when Tee to Green (Yoo-hoo, Henry!) appeared under my name I received two threats and an aspersion or two from him. This is all very encouraging. It denotes that I hold a position as concealed from the public eye as the gold fish of American joke lore. "Treason" is what he called it, and I say, "Let them eat cake; it's good for the backhand."

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SKY ALIGHT, $9.70, $6.00, $3.90; WHITE TOES (field), $15.90, $7.30; JALPUR, $2.80.

SKY ALIGHT, off forwardly, moved into contention with a rush on the outside the first quarter mile and, gaining steadily under strong urging, outlasted WHITE TOES in the final drive. WHITE TOES, bumped at the start, recovered his stride quickly and, saving ground rounding the turn, moved up fast on the inside of the leaders. He continued to gain with good courage the final furlong and would have won in another stride. JALPUR drew away into a good lead under punishment the early running and appeared to hold a safe lead entering the stretch, but then tired badly when challenged and was unable to withstand the bids of his opposition. CHICA GUINEA, well up for three furlongs, stopped in the stretch run. DUN PAST was knocked off his stride shortly after the start. He closed some ground to the furlong pole, but was not persevered with the remainder of the trip. TINY WRACK displayed a flash of early speed. The last three horses at the break had no chance after the start came.

SECOND RACE—Seven furlongs (out the chute). Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won ridden out; place, driving. Went to post at 3:08. Off at 3:13. Winner, G. C. Two-dollar mutuels paid—TONY JOE, $7.10, $4.70, $3.20; BLACK PATRICIA, $6.60, $4.80; CALGARY KAY, $13.00.

TONY JOE broke clear, rushed to the front in the first sixteenth and, continuing determinedly, held sway throughout, but was hard ridden to maintain his advantage. BLACK PATRICIA, in tight quarters on the inside for half a mile, came out into the best going entering the stretch and outlasted CALGARY KAY in the final drive. The latter broke well, but stumbled and dropped back. He worked his way forwardly on the outside and made a game bid entering the stretch, but weakened in the closing strides. MORSNUFF broke slowly and closed a big gap. BOB KERNAN, also away badly, showed a good effort. DANISH PRINCE and COCKRILL raced well. STAR LASSIE was unable to secure clear passage and was eased up through the stretch.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:43½. Off at 3:45½. Winner, Otto Terrell's b. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—GILDED ARCH, $5.00, $3.60, $2.60; HASTEN (field), $10.90, $5.10; DURVA, $3.20.

GILDED ARCH, showing the most speed, forced a steady pace and raced HASTEN into defeat entering the stretch, then drew clear through the stretch under strong pressure. HASTEN moved up menacingly on the outside of the leader on the stretch turn, but weakened when the final test came as if short. DURVA broke slowly. She gradually improved her position on the extreme outside and finished going strongly. LIGHT MINT, prominent throughout, held on well in the stretch run. POLYLITH had no mishaps.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs (out the chute). The Opportunity Purse, $1,200. For 3-year-olds. Start good and slow. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:17. Off at 4:24. Winner, Glen Riddle Farm's ch. c. (3), by Whisk Broom II—Assembly. Trained by W. R. Midkiff. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24 1-5, 0:49 2-5, 1:15, 1:28 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SERGEANT DANALDSON, $3.60, $2.50, $2.10; CIVOLLAG, $2.80, $2.20; JOHN BARTON, $2.50.

SERGEANT DONALDSON outclassed his opposition. He took command at his leisure the early stages and, rated in front until straightened out in the stretch, opened up a long lead with little effort to win as his rider pleased. CIVOLLAG, on the outside and hard urged all the way, closed steadily the last furlong and held JOHN BARTON safe at the finish. The latter lacked speed, but gained slowly after the first half mile and outlasted SAPPHIRE SKY in the final drive. SAPPHIRE SKY, on the inside the early running, weakened at the end. ALBANZANO, well up from the start, quit when forced to a drive.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:49. Off at 4:49½. Winner, Mrs. W. J. Two-dollar mutuels paid—FRANK FULLEN, $4.40, $2.80, $2.30; WORKLESS, $3.60, $2.70; PANDA, $2.90.

FRANK FULLEN broke off stride and raced in the deepest going in close quarters the first six furlongs. He came around his opponents entering the stretch and, closing gamely under a hand ride, took command in the stretch to win mildly urged. WORKLESS, under light restraint the first half mile, assumed command rounding the last turn, but was no match for the winner in the final furlong. PANDA, rated off the pace and, racing in the best going, finished with good courage and outlasted PRINCE PETER. The latter displayed good speed for six furlongs, then weakened. KEN KLING closed a good gap from a slow beginning. The others were outrun after going six furlongs.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good and slow. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:20. Off at 5:20½. Winner, Miss Blanche Watson's b. g. (5), by Negofol—Brookdale. Trained by P. Reuter. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:25, 0:50 3-5, 1:17, 1:44 3-5, 1:52 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—NEGODALE, $9.20, $6.30, $5.00; DOUBLE O, $11.00, $8.20; ISOSTASY, $12.20.

NEGODALE, a forward contender, assumed command on the stretch turn and, responding gamely under punishment, shook off DOUBLE O in the stretch run. DOUBLE O, lightly rated the early running, went into contention with a rush rounding the lower turn, but continued to bear in through the stretch and Smith was unable to do him justice. ISOSTASY, in the run to the first turn, gradually improved his position between the leaders and finished strongly the last furlong under punishment. BILL SETH, prominent for six furlongs, began to weaken after entering the stretch. OTILLA, hard urged, was unable to improve her position.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good and slow. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 5:50. Off at 5:54. Two-dollar mutuels paid—HADES, $8.60, $5.00, $3.80; ROYAL CHARGE, $5.10, $4.10; EXPENSE, 16.60.

HADES, shuffled back the initial furlong, moved forward with a rush entering the back stretch, but was taken under stout restraint and followed in near pursuit of the leaders to the stretch turn, where he assumed command and held sway thereafter. ROYAL CHARGE broke poorly. He gradually improved his position on the outside and finished going strong. EXPENSE, rated off the early pace, cut the corners entering the stretch and finished gamely under punishment. DOCK LIGHT raced steadily all the way. VOWED VENGEANCE, used up racing DOCK LIGHT into submission, stopped as if short the last furlong.

Wright Rests Ankle In Robins' Camp.

Macon, Ga., March 30 (A.P.).—Wilbert Robinson sent his Brooklyn Robins through a spirited drill here today in preparation for the onslaughts later this week of the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Braves.

Glenn Wright, star shortstop, who has been bothered by a sore ankle, probably will see little action for the next few days. Glenn wants to give his ankle plenty of rest and Gordon Slade will do most of the heavy work between second and third.

McGraw Praises Club's Condition.

San Antonio, Tex., March 30 (A.P.). Rain prevented a clash with the White Sox today but John McGraw of the New York Giants was not disappointed.

"The Giants are in great physical shape," said McGraw, "and a little rest won't hurt them. They missed only one day's work during the stay in San Antonio."

Games with the White Sox tomorrow and Wednesday have been cancelled out of respect to the late Ernest S. Barnard and the late Byron B. Johnson.

Reds Hear Cheering News of Heilmann.

Tampa, Fla., March 30 (A.P.).—One gleam of cheer appeared on the horizon of the Cincinnati Reds as they broke training camp today and headed north by easy stages. Manager Dan Howley received word that Harry Heilmann, slugging outfielder, was able to move his right arm and fingers on his right hand for the first time in two months, indicating the arthritis attack has started to loosen its hold on the veteran. Physicians said Howley would know by May 1 when Heilmann could get back into the game. Macon, Ga., was the Reds' first stop.

MISS ORCUTT TOPS FIELD WITH 75

Beats Miss Collett for North-South Tourney Medal.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 30 (A.P.)—Maureen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., one of the longest and straightest drivers among the Nation's women players, today shot a 75 to win medal honors in the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the twenty-ninth annual North and South tournament, and set a competitive course record.

Her 75 was two strokes better than Glenna Collett's record 77 in 1926, which was equaled today by Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, who finished second. Miss Orcutt's victory marked her second successive year as medalist here. Last year she shot an 80.

Playing over the difficult No. 8 layout, with its deep traps and sloping fairways, Miss Orcutt kept pace with men's par all the way out, to reach the turn in 35. Coming back she encountered trouble and soared to a 40.

Miss Van Wie Has 38-39—77 Card

The yellow-haired Miss Van Wie shot steady golf for a 38—39—77. Except for trouble in the traps on the third and thirteenth, where she took sixes, she might have tied the Englewood player.

Four strokes behind in third place came Miss Martha Parker, New York, metropolitan champion, with 81. She had three birdies under men's par.

Tied for fourth at 82 were Edith Quier, Reading, Pa., who was runner-up to Miss Collett last year, and the veteran Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City. Miss Quier had trouble on the home nine, where she had a 43 after going out in 39.

All scores of 91 or better qualified for the first flight. Championship flight match pairings at 18 holes tomorrow: Helen Sillick and Mrs. O. S. Hill, Marian Bennett and Mrs. C. R. Harbaugh, Ruth Bachelder and Maureen Orcutt, Mrs. A. E. Bulson and Peggy Wattles, Jane Brooks and Edith Quier, Helen Waring and Mrs. Norman Rood, Bernice Wall and Virginia Van Wie, Martha Parker and Mrs. S. F. Wadsworth.

Junior Net Men Meet Tonight to Organize

Every junior and boy tennis player in Washington and its environs is invited to attend a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Franklin School called by the Washington Public Parks Tennis Association with a view to the formation of a junior tennis league, the staging of more junior tournament play and the perpetuation of junior intercity matches.

The meeting is sponsored by William O. Shreve, treasurer of the association, and Frank Shore, recent winner of the Baltimore junior indoor title, who is chairman of the association's committee on junior tennis.

Plans for the establishment of junior league are still in their airiest stages, but preliminary opinion appears to be that the teams will have six singles, with the juniors playing up near the top and the boys down in the lower places.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

FROM a miner in the Pennsylvania coal fields to King of La Gonave is the dramatic story that covers ten years of adventurous life of Faustin E. Wirkus, a U. S. Marine. At the age of 17 Wirkus enlisted in the Marine Corps; he was sent in 1917 to Haiti with the rank of sergeant. Wirkus had the opportunity of befriending a Haitian woman who designated herself as Queen Timemenne of La Gonave Island, off the coast of Haiti. Later he was transferred to La Gonave as a lieutenant in the Haitian Guards and upon his arrival was given a great reception by the natives, who had heard of him as a benefactor of their queen. With kingly ceremony he was crowned (with a crown of silk, glass and sea shells) King Wirkus I, of La Gonave, and, though still a Marine, ruled jointly with Queen Timemenne for eight years.

During the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries the word "fool" was used as a word of affection.

The miniature camera, which is perfect in every detail, was made for a doll's house exhibit at the Philadelphia sesqui-centennial.

MD. U. TEAMS ACTIVE IN 3 SPORTS

Baseball, Track, Lacrosse Squads Busy During Holidays.

WHILE the majority of the Maryland University student body go home to their various precincts today, there will be no surcease from labor for that element of the registration known as athletes. The baseball team is now deep in the throes of its annual spring trip, having been Washington and Lee, 3-1, yesterday at Lexington.

The ball team left Sunday afternoon on a trip that will see them the guests of V. M. I. today, Georgia tomorrow, at Athens, Georgia the next day, too; North Carolina State at Raleigh on Friday, and North Carolina University on Saturday at Chapel Hill.

The opening Old Line game at College Park will be played April 8 against Penn State, with North Carolina State, Harvard and Virginia following in close order.

Lacrosse, Track Squads Toil.

The diamond players are not the only ones who are toiling these days in the name of Maryland. Both the lacrosse team and the track squad will be kept on the campus preparatory to their opening engagements.

The lacrosse outfit goes into action next Monday at Athens against Georgia, while the track team is slated to meet V. M. I. this Saturday. A squad of twenty will make up the traveling track team.

After a workout yesterday it was it was definitely decided how the lacrosse lineup would read for the initial game: Internezzi, goal; Deckman, point; Mitchell, cover point; May, first defense; Norris, second defense; Nicholson, third defense; Pugh, center; Collamo, first attack; Lee, second attack; oHckinamith, third attack; Ronkin, out home and Steiber, in home.

Ronkin Holds Forth At Out Home.

Ed Ronkin will be playing his out home post for the first time. He is understudying for Flip Faber, who is out with an injured leg.

Tennis is practically defunct at Maryland at the present, the ill-starred Maryland courts still resembling the inside of a sponge ball. The Terps, however, will have another team, but entertain few hopes of accomplishing more than last year in the net game. Maurice Goubeau, former Western High player, will be the bulwark of the team this year, but it is doubtful whether he can check the drop in team efficiency caused by the graduation of Lou Kurland, former Maryland junior champion.

BOWIE NOTES

Johnnie Callahan, for years one of the foremost jockeys, was at the Bowie opening. He quit riding when his old friend, William Martin, retired as an owner and returned to his old home in Tennessee. Callahan has just returned from a visit to his old friend in Tennessee.

Mr. Martin sold Balko, famous sprinter, his last horse, to the Sagamore Stable for $30,000 and retired because of ill health. He was called "Longshot" Martin because his name appeared on an Aqueduct program as W. L. S. Martin to distinguish him from four other Martins on the program as Martin, but he has no middle initial.

The stewards granted Harold Thomas a trainer's license today. Thomas was suspended for 90 days last December by the stewards at Jefferson Park, New Orleans.

Russ Padgett, one of the thirteen trainers refused licenses by the Jockey Club of New York, therefore unable to saddle horses in this State, has turned Prometheus and Lahor over to Oscar Chaney to train.

The Brookmeade Stable's Weatherproof cast himself in his stall this morning and was scratched from today's feature.

H. Guy Bedwell, who operates the Yarrow Brae Stud at Savage, Md., is due here tomorrow from New Orleans. Bedwell recently underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Crescent City.

GEORGETOWN GRID DRILL ENDS WITH SCRIMMAGE

Drills Ended Until After Holidays

Mills Sees Promising Talent During Spring Work at Hilltop.

Scrimmages Will Be Frequent Following the Recess.

SCRIMMAGE was the order of the day yesterday as Coach Tommy Mills' spring football camp disbanded for the holidays. It was the first time that affairs of this nature broke out in camp, the preceding three weeks of drilling having been given over to the most fundamental of fundamentals.

Coach Mills is more than pleased with the work of the freshmen, having concentrated most of his instruction work on them. They have shown a willingness beyond expectations and appeared reluctant yesterday to dispense with Mills' grid advice.

As soon as camp reopens, after the holidays, scrimmaging will be the rule rather than the exception. Mills plans to take his boys over to a portion of the new athletic field behind the Medical Building. Three more weeks of spring football are on the Hoya athletic schedule.

Out of the spring training melee Mills foresees a bigger Georgetown team for 1931. He expects to have five complete back fields and, perhaps five full-fledged teams.

Carolan, O'Rourke and Rowan have impressed Mills, among the candidates for end positions on next fall's team. At tackle, Richards, O'Neill, Catalinas and Konopka look promising, while Stenkel, Walacavage and Curtis appear to be the class of the guards.

Frantz and Callahan will be heard from when center positions are being doled out, while Kennedy, quarter back, is judged by Mills as the most outstanding "find" of the camp. Kirby and Leone also look good in the signal calling department.

Among the half back aspirants Dashiel, Gellis and Lutz seem to be best suited for the tasks, while Simmons and Bradley are the best of the full backs.

Five Varsity Captains Elected by West Point

West Point, N. Y., March 29 (A.P.).—Captains of five Army winter sports teams just elected for next year were announced today by Maj. P. B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at the United States Military Academy.

Ray J. Stecker, of Hazelton, Pa., was elected to captain the basket ball team; John G. Coughlin, of Lowell, Ariz., boxing; Benjamin J. Webster, of Honolulu, swimming; Thomas C. Darcy, Boston, hockey; Frank G. Jamison, Quarryville, Pa., wrestling.

BABE RUTH IN NEW ROLE

12 Senior Nines to Start Capital City Play May 17

ANOTHER record-breaking turnout was recorded in Room 2 of the District Building last night when representatives of twelve senior teams applied for franchises in the Capital City League, sponsored by The Washington Post.

The managers present and the teams they represent are as follows: Koontz Service Station, H. R. Ricker; Mount Rainier, Ralph Pryor; Olmsted Grill, Bert Olmsted; Nolan Motor Co., Robert Farrell; C. A. O'Briens, Bernard Bussink; Miller-Roamer A. C., George Wood; Linworth A. C. Bill McCrea; Acme Printing Co., D. M. Wood; De Molay, L. D. Monroe; Sterling A. C., Bill Sanford; Potomac A. C., George Irving, and Lionel A. C., Mrs. A. K. Palsgrove. Player contracts were distributed to the managers.

Player Contracts Due May 12.

The meeting, presided over by Vice President Richard Tennyson, moved swiftly from start to finish, with most of the teams agreeing on the various proposals. A decision to commence play on Sunday, May 17, was reached, with player contracts and the franchise fee of $18 being deposited with the league secretary on or before May 12.

As in the past, to be a member of a senior team a player must not have reached his twenty-first birthday before the scheduled game. In other words, any boy is eligible, provided he has not reached his twenty-first birthday midnight May 16.

The Spalding official baseball was adopted for league use by the teams. The winning team will be awarded a handsome silver trophy by A. G. Spalding & Bro. Thus, with The Post awarding individual players gold baseballs, both the team and individual efforts will be rewarded.

Bert Olmsted to Present Wrist Watches.

As an added incentive to encourage keener competition Mr. Bert Olmsted, sponsor of the team bearing his name, announced that each player on the champion senior team will be awarded a handsome Gruen wrist watch. Mr. Olmsted was high in his praise of the senior section of the Capital City League last year, the manner in which it was conducted and the effect it produced on amateur baseball.

Another meeting of the teams has been carded for next Tuesday night at the same place, when the league rules will be discussed. Tonight at 8 o'clock, in Room 2, of the District Building, the final meeting of the unlimited clubs before the start of the race will be held. All rules will be thoroughly gone into.

Thursday night the junior teams who will play under the colors of the Capital City League will meet at the same place and hour, with the insect division being organized Saturday at 7 p. m.

Moore Named Captain By Georgetown Prep

Harry Moore, 17, of Deal Beach, N. J., was elected captain of next year's Georgetown Prep basket ball team yesterday at a meeting of varsity and reserve court players. Moore is best remembered for his work in the Georgetown Prep upset victory over St. John's, unofficial prep school champions of Washington. Moore's three baskets in the waning moments of the game turned the tide of victory.

He is a three-sports man, being a member of the varsity baseball and football teams, a junior, and plans to matriculate at Georgetown.

Spring sports at Garrett Park will subside today and not appear in full bloom again until the conclusion of the Easter holidays. As usual the school will be represented in baseball, tennis and golf.

VA. U. MEETS DARTMOUTH TODAY

Fans Awaiting Debut of Tebell's Team; Lacks Material.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 30 (A.P.).—Gus Tebell, Virginia's baseball coach, has been hunting a first baseman, outfielders, and an almost complete mound staff. University fans are anxious to see his presentation against the Dartmouth nine in the opening game here tomorrow.

Herbert Bryant and Minor Lewis, outfielders; Harry Steinberg, second baseman; Bud Dent, short stop; Ben Pinder, third baseman, and Woody Weaver are the only veterans that have returned to the Cavalier diamond aggregation this year from the varsity nine of 1930 that won only twe games.

Not only is there a lack f seasoned veterans, but there also is a serious lack of replacements from the 1930 freshman squad, and there were but few reserves for the last year's varsity.

Juggles Squad For Weeks.

For weeks the Cavalier coach has been drilling his charges, twisting their positions and moving them about in an effort to round out a team that will field and hit.

The search for pitchers has been causing Tebell as much worry as any other position troubles. Little is known among the University fans as to what he has found, and tomorrow's game was expected to tell the story of what is likely to be done in the face of an alarming lack of material.

Virginia will open its diamond schedule with Dartmouth, and follow with games here with Yale Friday and Saturday. During the following week, the Cavaliers swing into their Tri-State League games.

Special to The Washington Post.

QUANTICO, Va., March 30.—The University of Vermont Baseball Team lost to the All-Marines here this afternoon, 8 to 1.

The college boys showed lack of practice, and Cummings, their starting pitcher, was wild and ineffective, the Marines scoring all their runs while he was on the mound.

LEAGUE RULE PUZZLING SCHOOLS

Third Virginia District Protests Eligibility of Lowery.

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 30.—Third District athletic officials are puzzled over the action of the Virginia Literary and Athletic League in their stand sustaining Fredericksburg's appeal to play Margolas Lowery, star ball player of the Yellowjackets, who has seen four years' service on the baseball diamond in scholastic competition.

Chairman Henry T. Moncure of the district has given out an opinion which states Lowery is ineligible according to the district code, because of his previous athletic service. He cites the Goodwin case, of Washington and Lee High, as an example for the authority of his rules.

The bone of contention is that Lowery played with the Fredericksburg High School nine when in the elementary grades. Kaufmann, secretary of the Virginia Literary and Athletic League, cites the Third District ruling of 1929 and says the player in question is ineligible. This rule allowed elementary school boys to perform in high school games.

Declares Rule Has Expired.

In answering Mr. Kaufman's letter, Chairman Moncure states this rule was placed in effect only for George Mason High in 1929 and had no authority after that season. Moncure says if Mr. Kaufmann does not handle the case in line with other rulings affecting the district he thinks the schools involved will have been "grossly mistreated."

Mr. Moncure stated in his letter that it has always been understood the Third District is to handle its own affairs and feels any decision from the executive secretary of the league will be out of order.

The district chairman says the athletic board is willing to hear Athletic Director Neill's side of the question, but as yet this has not been requested as the Fredericksburg coach went direct to the Literary League authorities for a decision.

William H. Wood, jr., was elected as chairman of the executive committee of the Columbia Fire Department Athletic Association at a meeting held at the firehouse last night. This body will have complete control of all sports at the firehouse. Other members of the committee are W. L. Lawrence, C. B. Cook, Claude Haynes and Leo Moore.

Julian Davis is manager of the baseball team, and Lecky Nowland is captain. The first practice for the fire fighters will be held next Sunday on Haydon's Field. It is expected the firemen will enter the Capital City League.

Twenty-two candidates are seeking berths on the St. Mary's Celtic's Nine. The latest to report are Delmo Robey and Pat Murphy, who performed with Herndon Fair Lou last year. Drills will be held daily at Baggett's Stadium. Art Ludlow is coach of the Club.

The Alexandria Rotary and Kiwanis bowling teams will hook-up in their second three-game series Tuesday at 8 o'clock on the Health Center alleys. The Rotarians are leading in the match by 49 pins.

STOCKS, IRREGULAR, SCORE NET LOSSES

Setbacks Follow Brief Rallies; Few Issues Move Upward.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—Stocks were under pressure during the greater part of today's market, but the decline was much less lively than Saturday's and was broken by two or three attempts at a technical rally.

Final prices represented new losses of a fraction to about 2 points for a majority of the leading issues. A few stocks closed higher. Sales totaled 3,200,000 shares.

Weakness in the previous session piled up a substantial bundle of selling orders over the week-end and the market was heavy in the early trading. A forenoon rally, based on the belief that an oversold condition existed, proved premature and served chiefly to bring out more stock. There was another upturn in the afternoon, followed by another setback toward the close.

Leaders' Losses Small.

However, at their lowest quotations such stalwarts as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, General Electric and General Motors were only down a point or two. American Can and Bethlehem Steel were steady and other prominent industrials were in a narrow trading range. Utilities, as a group, were soft and the rails offered little encouragement, Pennsylvania making a new low. Woolworth rallied nearly 2 points, presumably in anticipation of a favorable March sales statement. There have also been reports that the dividend would be increased. McKeesport Tin Plate returned to favor with a 4-point rise and Alaska Juneau hopped up 3 points at the close.

Shares off at least a point net included U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Eastman Kodak, Southern Railway, Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate, Consolidated Gas, United Corporation and American & Foreign Power. Atlantic Coast Line established a new low, while Allied Chemical dropped several points to the lowest quotation since 1927.

Trade Reviews Cautious.

Weekly trade reviews repeated warnings that business recovery would be irregular and that too much should not be expected of stocks. A decline in steel operations in the Youngstown district led to the assumption that output for the industry as a whole might be shaded this week, and there was also talk of lower automobile schedules by mid-April. Of a more favorable nature was the Sears Roebuck sales report, showing a loss of 6.8 per cent for the third four-week period compared with a 12 per cent decline for the entire first twelve weeks of 1931.

Foreign exchanges tended to ease, although recessions were of little moment. Sterling was firm. The drop of half a cent in bar silver here caused some reaction in Far Easterns.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 30 (A.P.).—All grains today established new bottom price records for 1931, with wheat outdoing lowest figures since 1895. The general break in values accompanied news from the world wheat conference at Rome had ended in hopeless division. Another decided bearish factor was a report from the United States Department of Agriculture suggesting likelihood that 1931 corn production in this country would exceed any total since 1923.

Late recoveries, largely due to profit taking by previous speculative sellers, offset the declines which at the extreme amounted to about a cent a bushel on wheat and corn. The close, however, was unsteady—wheat ⅛ to ⅜ cents above Saturday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, oats ⅛ to 1⅛ off, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to 7 cents advance.

Intensifying the unsettlement of grains was the announcement that the United States wheat visible supply had increased 764,000 bushels in the last week, and that the total had risen to 202,497,000 bushels against 149,385,000 a year ago. Throughout most of the day, wheat holders gave evidence of discouragement over recent failure of any sustained upturn in grain prices. Dearth of aggressive buying, though, rather than unusual selling pressure was apparent, and wheat readily responded to reports of an ideal outlook for domestic winter wheat growth, particularly as affected by heavy snow in the Texas panhandle.

Uneasiness regarding Increased Russian competition was emphasized by word that the international wheat conference in Rome had been unable to agree on a method of dealing with constantly recurring surplus stocks of wheat. In this connection, advices were at hand that notwithstanding North American breadstuff exports this season were slightly larger than a year ago, the total to date was greatly under that of the year previous, a circumstance ascribed to Russian shipments and to world financial depression. Seaboard reports indicated little European call today either for United States or Canadian wheat.

Corn traders gave special attention to a report from the United States Department of Agriculture saying farmers' intentions to increase corn acreage this season almost 5 per cent suggested a crop exceeding in bulk any since 1923, and that corn prices could be expected to go to a lower level. There were also reports of a movement to burn corn in Argentina as fuel, Argentine corn being cheaper in some cases than coal.

Stop-loss selling of oats gave that cereal the worst upset in a long while, but cash demand picked up after prices had reached new low levels.

In the provisions market weakness of grains partly counterbalanced the effect of upturns in hog values.

LOW RAIL INCOMES SEND BONDS DOWN

Utility Obligations Hold Well; Peru's Default Felt in Market.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—Price trends were lower in today's bond market, particularly in the domestic rails and in the Latin-American governments.

Most of the highest-grade investment liens were well taken, as call money continued at 1½ per cent. Two per cent money would not be surprising before the month-end settlements are completed, but should have little influence on the investment market.

Dividend and interest disbursements on Wednesday are expected to approximate $500,000,000, which is expected to stimulate new offerings, and may have a bracing effect upon the high-grade listed issues, as funds seek reinvestment.

Rail Slump Is Factor.

The low level of rail earnings appears to be the primary factor in the heaviness of second-grade carrier liens. Net for the first 65 roads reporting for February was off 51 per cent from that month of 1930. The Missouri Pacific issues were notably weak, the various series of 5s dropping 2 to 3 points to new lows. The Erie refunding 5s were also pressed for sale, declining 2½ and 3 points to new minimum levels for the movement. Losses were not confined to second-grade issues, but elsewhere were mostly fractional. New York Central issues were largely steady.

The utility obligations were, in the main, well taken, but several of the industrials sagged. Amusements were particularly heavy. General Theaters 6s dropped 2, and Loew's 6s, ex-warrants, more than a point, to new lows. In the oils, California Petroleum 5s and Shell Union 5s sold off a point to new bottom prices for 1931, while Texas Corporation 5s recovered a point.

Latin-Americans Decline.

In the foreign group the Peruvian default still hung over the Latin-Americans, and declines were substantial in spots, although Colombian and Uruguayan issues maintained a steady tone. Rio Grande do Sul 6s dropped 4½ points.

German governments were also under pressure, the 7s losing 1⅞ and the international 5½s, 1⅝. Imposition of a virtual dictatorship by the Bruening government may have been a factor in the selling. The Australian issues stiffened on news from London that the April 1 interest on the New South Wales issue would be paid.

The United States Governments were steady to firm.

Headquarters of Seaboard Public Service Co. at Alexandria, Va., announced yesterday that subsidiaries of that company, operating in seven States along the Southeastern coast line, showed an increase of 8.6 per cent in kilowatt hour output for the month of February, and a 10.1 per cent increase for the first two months of the year.

The total output for February, 1931, was 20,706,869 kilowatt hours, as against 26,438,402 in February a year ago, a gain of 2,268,467, or 8.6 per cent.

Kilowatt hours generated in the company's plants during February were 27,377,922, as against 23,767,392 for February, 1930, a gain of 3,610,530, or 15.2 per cent, while a total of 1,328,947 kilowatt hours was purchased during February, as against 2,671,010 for the same month in 1930, a decrease of 1,342,063, or 50.2 per cent.

Energy generated in the first two months of the year in the company's plants aggregated 58,426,931 kilowatt hours, as against 50,579,099 for the same period during 1930, an increase of 7,847,832, or 15.5 per cent.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—An early decline in cotton was recovered during the middle of the day, but covering and a moderate trade demand was satisfied on a rally from 10.93 to 11.02 for July and prices later erased under renewed liquidation today. Selling was probably promoted by the weakness in Liverpool and Alexandria, while there may also have been some Wall street selling on the easier ruling of the stock market. July closed at 10.95, with the general market barely steady at net declines of 5 to 9 points.

The opening was steady 3 to 8 points higher on reports from the lower foreign markets which promoted some local selling as well as liquidation, while there was also some selling here for New Orleans account. May ceased off to 10.72 and October to 11.26 under the initial pressure, but the offerings were quite readily absorbed by trade buying or covering. Aggressive selling was probably held in check by the outlook for continued unfavorable weather for crop preparations in the South, and prices worked back to about Saturday's closing quotation during the middle of the day.

May advanced to 10.78 and October to 11.33, making the active months about net 2 points lower to 1 point higher, but the demand tapered off at these figures and some positions made new lows for the day in the late trading. May sold off to 10.71 and closed at that figure with October closing at 11.26 or even with the early low level.

A moderate volume of business was reported at the start and toward the close with trading comparatively quiet during the middle of the day. Some of the cotton bought on the rally from the early low level may have been resold later, owing to disappointment over the failure of buying to broaden on the advance. Houses with Liverpool connections were buyers of late months here during the early trading and there was some trade buying in the near positions, but later May was offered more freely and closed 53 points under October compared with 53 points Saturday.

Liverpool reported Continental and Bombay selling in that market on the weakness in Egyptian futures at Alexandria, and reported a bearish sentiment in Manchester with manufacturers losing ground. Exports today, 8,550, making 5,588,036 so far this season. Port receipts, 11,794. U. S. port stocks, 3,794,174.

Futures closed barely steady.

Curb Review

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—Selling pressure was the dominant factor most of the time on the Curb Exchange today.

Stocks there followed the market on the big board on the toboggan, and a late rally was too feeble to carry them back to their opening levels. The pace of the market quickened noticeably and sales totaled 666,800 shares, compared with 590,600 shares on Friday.

From the standpoint of group action the public utilities were notable. Transactions in several of the leaders constituted a steady stream of orders and they closed generally lower. Electric Bond & Share, Brazil Traction, American Superpower, American Foreign Power warrants, Niagara Hudson Power, United Light & Power A stock, United Gas new stock, and Middle West Utilities all lost ground. Cities Service recovered its loss in a late rally.

Low prices were not confined to the foregoing group. Recessions were recorded by such miscellaneous active stocks as Cord Corporation, American Maracaibo, Imperial Oil, International Petroleum, Mead Johnson, which dropped several points, Noranda, United Founders, Trans Lux and Shenandoah.

The latter group is sufficiently diversified to indicate the broad character of the downward price movement, especially as they and the utilities constitute the bulk of the more active issues of the whole list. In addition the great majority of the less active stocks closed with net losses.

Agfa Ansco, common and preferred, Borg Warner preferred, Ludlow Manufacturing, Lackawanna Steel, Pilot Radio Tube, and United Verde Extension moved against the general trend to make outstanding gains, but transactions in most of these stocks consisted of a few small sales.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, March 30.—D. R. Evans, vice president and general sales agent of the Lehigh Valley Coal Sales Co., has been elected president to succeed G. N. Wilson, resigned.

Offering is expected shortly of an issue of $35,000,000 Northern States Power Co. refunding mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, due in 1961. The proceeds will be used to retire high coupon rate securities and will result in a substantial saving in annual interest charges.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, said traffic continues at a low rate as compared with last year and that he expects March earnings will show a similar drop from 1930 as was shown in February. He added that there has been a decided improvement in the crop outlook in the Northwest.

C. H. Chester, jr., president of General Foods Corporation, said ownership in the corporation is now distributed among 42,773 stockholders, an increase of 33 per cent over the 32,065 stockholders of record in February of last year.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported today the receipt of $1,981,200 in gold from Mexico.

Darby & Co. are offering $2,500,000 of city and county of Denver, Colo., 4¼ per cent water bonds at prices to yield 3.75 per cent. The bonds will mature serially on June 1 from 1959 to 1967. They were authorized at an election.

Goodyear Dividend Reduced.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—Directors of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. today reduced the annual dividend of the common stock to $3, from $5, by declaring a quarterly payment of 75 cents a share.

APARTMENT FIRM JOINS NEW BATTLE OVER RHEEM NOTES

ATTACK BY TRUSTEES ON HIS JURISDICTION

Return of Unreleased Mortgage Securities Is Opposed.

"A legal battle to retain jurisdiction as to Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey mortgage notes in Justice Jesse C. Adkins' Bankruptcy Court was launched yesterday by counsel for the Westchester, one of the properties on which the bankrupt firm's notes had been released, in a brief filed with Justice Adkins.

Jurisdiction of the court was challenged Friday at a hearing on a trustees' motion that all notes left in the defunct company's vaults for safekeeping be returned to owners. Leon Tobriner, attorney for the bankrupt, will follow up the challenge tomorrow with a plea for transfer of jurisdiction to the referee in bankruptcy, J. Fred Eden, when hearings before Justice Adkins are resumed.

Trustees' Stand Assailed.

The brief filed yesterday by W. Gwynn Gardiner, counsel for the Westchester, does not protest return of notes on which the deeds of trust have not been released, but maintains the apartment corporation, or maker of unreleased notes, is entitled to their possession, rather than persons who deposited them with the bankrupt.

Retention of jurisdiction in Justice Adkins court is asked, with a view to an early decision on this point. Citing authorities, the brief also protests the position taken by the trustees for the bankrupt, that they have no interest in either of thees classes of notes."

"The bankrupt estate has an interest in these notes," read the brief.

Would Trace Money.

"The trustees must tell us where the money is that was paid by the Westchester Corporation to the bankrupt under instructions to pay these notes. The trustees admit that there is marked on the ledgers of Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. a statement to the effect that the notes have been paid."

Judge Michael M. Doyle, one of the three trustees for the bankrupt firm, is preparing an order for the return of all notes on which the deers of trust have not been released, at the direction of Justice Adkins. He said the order would be drafted today and signed by Justice Adkins in all probability at tomorrow's hearing.

Art Academy Guards Judges of Caricatures

Philadelphia, March 30 (U.P.).—After silently witnessing numerous art atrocities, the guards in the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts recently had their turn to express an opinion of the value of the exhibited works.

Once each year, during the annual exhibition of the Academy, students are permitted to caricature the paintings.

And then the guards form an art jury to judge the caricatures.

They award three medals, a gold one in the shape of a $5 gold piece, a silver one like a silver one dollar and a bronze medal masquerading as a penny.

New Planes Will Speed Atlanta-Houston Mail

Atlanta, March 30 (A.P.).—Five speedy planes of the latest type will be added to the equipment of American Airways, Inc., to expedite air mail service between Atlanta and New Orleans and Houston.

Officials of the line say the planes would be placed in operation about April 1. With a cruising speed of 125 miles per hour and a top speed of 150 miles per hour, the new planes will be able to clip several hours off the running time between this city and New Orleans. The Atlanta-Houston time will also be cut.

Rear Admiral S. S. Robison (left), who starts on official leave tomorrow preparatory to retirement as superintendent of the Naval Academy on May 1, when he will be succeeded by Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart.

Veteran of Manila Bay Ends Last Duty Tour in Service.

Annapolis, Md., March 30 (A.P.).—Rear Admiral Samuel Shelburne Robison retires as superintendent of the United States Naval Academy Wednesday, ending his last tour of duty in the Navy, which began when he was graduated from Annapolis in 1888.

Admiral Robison became the head of the academy in June, 1928. He turns over the command of the Naval Academy to Capt. C. P. Snyder.

Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, who will succeed Admiral Robison as superintendent of the academy, will arrive in Annapolis the first of May. During April Capt. Snyder will act in the dual capacity of commandant of midshipmen and superintendent.

While a midshipman Admiral Robison played on the football team and was one of the leaders of his class. After graduation he sailed as a passed midshipman on the U. S. S. Marion. He served in the famous "White Squadron," aboard the Boston, and then was a member of the party which surveyed Lower California on the Thetis.

Following a tour of duty at Mare Island, he sailed on the Boston to China and served on her during the battle of Manila Bay. In 1899 he served at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

During the World War he commanded the South Carolina and was connected with submarines and submarine devices. Just before the close of the war he was ordered to command the Brest district, and later he was a member of the naval armistice commission.

Since the World War he has been commandant of the Boston Navy Yard, military governor of Santo Domingo and a member of the general board. His last sea duty was spent as commander in chief of the battle fleet, and finally as commander in chief of the United States fleet, the highest command afloat in the Navy.

After two years as commandant of the Thirteenth Naval District and of Puget Sound Navy Yard, he was made superintendent of the Naval Academy.

Stay to Padlock Order Is Granted

Mrs. Hilda Wise Allowed to Post Bond After Dry Law Action.

Mrs. Hilda Wise, owner of the premises at 1246 Wisconsin avenue northwest, yesterday was given permission by District Court of Appeals to post a $1,000 bond to stay temporarily the padlock injunction of four months ordered placed on the first floor of the premises by District Supreme Court Justice Oscar R. Luhring.

Mrs. Wise told the appeals court she had in effect been denied the right of appeal because the padlocking term is to begin Saturday and will be concluded before the court can act upon the appeal. She asked that the appeals court issue a mandamus ordering that she be enabled to post a "supersedeas" bond pending outcome of her appeal. The motion, made through Attorneys Brandenburg & Brandenburg, was filed Friday of last week.

The Wisconsin avenue premises insofar as the first floor is concerned was ordered padlocked by Justice Luhring at the request of Assistant United States Attorney Harold Orcutt, who filed the proceedings under provisions of the prohibition laws.

Police Will Issue Orders for Bodies

Health Officer Modifies Rule Denying Removal of Dead After 11 P. M.

Health Officer William C. Fowler yesterday modified his order prohibiting the issuance of permits to remove dead bodies by police at the various precincts when the health department is closed, by agreeing to let permits be issued at police headquarters from 11 p. m. until 9 a. m.

The action followed a conference of Commissioner Luther H. Reichelderfer, Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, the health officer, and Albert J. Sardo, who appeared as representative of the undertakers, who had protested against the revocation.

Dr. Fowler explained that he had issued the order denying police the right to issue the permits after several instances of carelessness had come to his attention. He consented, however, to give police headquarters the authority so that undertakers would not have to wait until the health office opened if they desired to remove a body at night.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

POETRY IN THE JURY BOX.

A POEM by a juror on the boredom felt in the jury box during a tedious trial caused the lawyers to shorten their arguments and so pleased a United States district court judge that he excused all members of the jury from serving for the next four years. This will probably send juries throughout the country into a poetic rash.

* * * * *

"Have you reached a verdict?"
the court will demand as the jury raps on the door and flies in.
"No," the foreman will reply.
"What have you come out of the jury room for, then?"
"We want a rhyming dictionary!"

* * * *

One can imagine juror No. 6 rising during the trial of a murder case and asking, "May I ask a question?"

"What is it?" the court may inquire, as the courtroom is hushed in a moment of dramatic suspense.

"What's a good word to rhyme with habeas corpus?"

* * * *

Still, the world has long awaited a juror who would express his reactions in verse and the idea is worthy of encouragement. Court proceedings could be jazzed up considerably if every jury consisted of two good lyric writers, four composers, a mammy singer, three crooners and a couple of trombone players. And there ought to be an interlude between arguments so the lawyers can do some tap dancing.

* * * *

The trouble with court trials is that they are too dull. There's practically no fun, once the tabloid papers get through taking pictures.

* * * *

SUGGESTION FOR A JUROR'S POEM.

HERE we sit for days and days,
Sunk within a legal maze,
Listening to lawyers shout—
Wondering what it's all about.

Dozing in a stuffy room
In an atmosphere of gloom,
Bored by Counsel So-and-So
Barking, "Answer yes or no!"

Sleeping quite consistently (With the judge as company),
Wishing lawyers as a class
Would in time run out of gas.

Feeling sorry for the gent
Whom the lawyers represent;
Certain he would have a show
If he'd let his counsel go.

Sick of queries, "Where were you Tuesday, Nineteen-twenty-two?"
"Did it rain, and if so why
On the seventh of July?"

* * * *

"WHO was present, where and when,
Friday evening, nineteen-ten?"
"What was said that day at noon?"
"On that night was there a moon?"

"Have you known the plaintiff long?
If so, couldn't you be wrong?"
"Where were you, sir, if at all,
On a day we can't recall."

Hearing statements incorrect,
Steady cries of "I object!"
Wondering how the legal star
Got admitted to the bar.

Letting thoughts go far astray
From the doings of the day—
Hearing little that is said—
Wishing you were home in bed.

After days you've learned to hate
Leaving to deliberate;
Voting for acquittal clear
On the facts you didn't hear.

ARLINGTON AWARDS FRAZIER AVENUE JOB

Northern Virginia Company Gets $23,302 Contract to Widen Street.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Contract for the widening of Frazier avenue from Mount Vernon avenue to the Washington-Richmond Highway, a distance of 4,400 feet, was awarded to the Northern Virginia Construction Co., by the board of supervisors at its meeting held yesterday at the courthouse. The accepted bid was $23,302.88.

According to the specifications the road will be widened from 18 to 40 feet for a distance of 2,000 feet beginning at the Washington-Richmond Highway and the remaining distance of 2,400 feet to Mount Vernon avenue will be widened to 30 feet. The surface will be amisite from curb to curb.

The contractor, John H. Olcott, stated that he will start construction within the next two weeks.

Boulevard Connection Urged.

G. O. Basham, president of the Jefferson District Citizens Association, who appeared as the representative of the citizens, urging that the county proceed with plans for the construction of a connecting road from the Washington-Richmond highway to the new Mount Vernon boulevard, now in course of construction, was assured by Chairman Edward Duncan that everything possible will be done to have such a roadway constructed.

As evidence of the board's good faith in the project the following persons were appointed a special committee to proceed with the securing of the necessary rights of way: Ashton C. Jones, G. O. Basham, State Senator Frank L. Ball, Frank G. Campbell and Glen Bixler.

There appearing a wide difference of opinion on the part of members of the board of supervisors and Thomas W. Phillips, counsel for the Virginia Public Service Co., who was applying to the board for a permit to run wires to a point where there will be a transformer installed in the vicinity of Barcroft, as to the rights they had in granting a permit, the application was refused.

Board's Authority Challenged.

Supervisor B. M. Hedrick took the stand that there should first be an application for the installation of the transformer, as the wires were of no value until such time as the transformer was installed. Attorney Phillips declared that they were not now seeking a permit for a transformer; in fact, the board has no authority to grant the permit, that was up to the county engineer and zoning administrator in accordance with the county zoning ordinance.

Despite the contention on the part of counsel, the board still maintained they had full authority and would not grant the permit until all plans were submitted. This Attorney Phillips stated had been done.

While further efforts will be made to secure the permit for the wires, Attorney Phillips stated last night that he is not at this time prepared to state his next move.

The question of the granting of a permit for the erection of an advertising sign in Rosslyn along the Lee highway was left to the county engineer to find the exact location and, if not conflicting with the zoning ordinance, to grant the permit.

The board voted to determine at its meeting to be held April 15, as to when they will advertise for bids for the improvement to the Alexandria Washington pike fronting the oil storage plants in Rosslyn.

County Engineer C. L. Kinnier stated last night that all plans are ready for the improvement to Rucker avenue in Lyon Village and that he hopes to begin construction within the next few days.

By a vote of 9 to 7, the Arlington County Bar Association, at a special meeting held yesterday at Windsor Arms, failed to approve the movement seeking an executive order by the President of the United States permiting Federal employes, residents of Arlington County, to take an active part in local politics.

Considering the question of the appointment of a special committee to cooperate with other organizations in the country for the purpose of creating a community chest in Arlington County, the bar, as an organization, failed to approve the appointment of such a committee.

While it was pointed out that such matters were not the function of the bar association it was the opinion of members that the project should be sponsored as individual members.

President Amos C. Crounse presided at the meeting.

Having only received the plans, maps and specifications Saturday for the Washington street project which is being proposed by the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Federation and all citizens associations in Arlington and three in Washington districts as an adequate approach to the new Memorial Bridge, Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth, chairman of the right-of-way committee, announces that much progress has been made in securing the needed rights of way.

Friday night there will be a meeting of the delegates from all organizations supporting the movement in the auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School Building, at Fort Myer Heights. At this meeting, L. C. McNemar, chairman of the committee from the Fort Myer Heights Citizens Association, leaders in the movement, announces that the right of way committee will make a report and definite plans to take the matter before the county board of supervisors and urge early action.

There will be a special meeting of the Arlington County Ministerial Union held in the Baptist Church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which time the question of a community chest for Arlington County next year will be considered.

The newly elected officers of Mary Washington Chapter, No. 50, Order of the Eastern Star, were installed at a special meeting held last night in the Masonic Temple at Clarendon by Mrs. Mary E. Techum, grand lecturer of the Order of the Eastern Star of the District of Columbia.

Failure Is Seen For Farm Board

Production Overspeeded, Writer Tells Southern Cotton Group.

Savannah, Ga., March 30 (A.P.).—W. W. Ball, of Charleston News and Courier, today told the Atlantic Cotton Association convention thinking men foresaw the Federal Farm Board was "doomed to failure."

Mr. Ball was one of two speakers who assailed the Farm Board and tariff as contributing to depression in cotton and other farm crops. The other, Dameron H. Williams, of Gastonia, N. C., president of the association, said the marketing act "has utterly failed to aid the farmer." He said "recently disclosed figures" showed "$45,000,000 has been lost by the Government in cotton alone, with indications that the total loss in this unfortunate experiment in the handling of farm commodities will approximate $100,000,000."

Mr. Ball said "Americans have taken refuge behind the fragile barricades of the tariff laws" and have speeded production far beyond domestic consumption. Americans, he said, are undertaking to sell the surplus only for gold, the one value other countries do not possess. "In this way a large section of their own people have been led into poverty induced by protective tariffs for a little more than a century."

LEE CHOSEN TO HEAD SILVER SPRING UNIT

Montgomery Government Club Group Acts as Single Area.

Maj. E. Brooke Lee was elected chairman of the Silver Spring unit of the Montgomery Government Club at a meeting held last night in the County Building at Silver Spring. The three voting precincts of the Silver Spring area combined to form one unit.

Special legislation which will provide $1,800 a year for two years additional to the Silver Spring Volunteer Fire Department, in addition to the $4,000 which is ordinarily donated by the county to aid the department without imposing a tax at this time, was approved and recommended to the county commissioners. The money will be taken from the eastern suburban area fund and will not cause an increase in the tax rate, which is being avoided scrupulously by county officials.

Other officers elected, all of whom will represent the unit at the county congress of the club were Howard Griffith, treasurer; Ward W. Caddington, secretary; County Commissioner Lacy Shaw, in charge of the Silver Spring area but a resident of Colesville, honorary vice chairman; William C. Barnes, J. Donald Clagett, James H. Cissel, Joseph C. Cissel, Miss Lavinia Engle, U. F. O'Donnell, Phil C. Poston, N. R. Robinson and L. A. Yost, vice chairmen.

The members discussed present and future needs of the district, including road development, the proposed Silver Spring high school, and enlargement of the county building at Silver Spring, but took no definite action at this meeting.

Museum and Highway Planned for U. S. Park

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 29 (U.P.).—Plans for erection of a museum and construction of a road leading from the main highway are contemplated by the National Parks Service in a development program of the Dinosaur National Monument of Utah, according to word received here.

Park service officials and the American Museum of Natural History, New York, are discussing the development plans. The Government would construct an entrance road from Jensen, 6 miles to the monument site. The Museum of Natural History would excavate skeletons if the Government would erect a small museum where they could be exhibited.

Radio Communication Problem of Nautilus

Hartford, Conn., March 30 (U.P.).—One of the chief problems facing the Wilkins-Ellsworth submarine expedition to the North Pole is that of maintaining radio communication with the outside world, according to Ray E. Myers, radio officer of the submarine Nautilus, says a bulletin issued by the American Radio Relay League here.

Myers has supervised installation of high-frequency radio in the submarine in which Sir George Hubert Wilkins hopes to dash under the polar ice cap this summer. Myers is owner of amateur station W3AJZ, at Bethany Beach, Del. Amateurs will endeavor to keep contact with the boat as it pushes toward the pole.

BICENTENNIAL GROUP SELECTION DELAYED

Alexandria Association Puts Decision Off and Handles Routine Business.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

At the meeting of the George Washington Birthday Association last night in the George Mason Hotel, consideration of the report of the nominating committee, which was expected to propose the names of the new officers who will have charge of the celebration here in 1932, was deferred until a later meeting, and only routine matters handled. It was generally understood that the committee would name Charles W. King as president, and Martin E. Greene as secretary of the association.

Plans have been under way for some time for the bicentennial celebration, which it is expected will be by far the biggest ever staged in Alexandria. For years it has been the practice of the association to have a parade one year and a banquet the next. The last parade was in 1930, when President Hoover and Gov John Garland Pollard, of Virginia, were the honor guests and witnessed a parade which was probably the most colorful ever staged.

In the line of march were United States regular troops, sailors and marines, and National Guards, the latter including the famous Richmond Light Infantry Blues battalion, which acted as honor guard to Gov. Pollard. Volunteer fire companies from nearby Virginia and Maryland towns were in line, and many high officers of the Army and Navy were in the reviewing stand with the President and the governor.

The nominating committee for the association's officers includes J. William May, chairman; Harry D. Kirk, Martin E. Greene, Thomas Chauncey, O. Ashby Reardon, Harry F. Kennedy and Charles W. King.

The choir of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church will sing Turner's cantata, "Gethsemane to Golatha," this evening at 8 o'clock, as the annual Lenten song festival. Soloists will be Mrs. Evelyn Howar Sheridan, singing the part of Mary; Miss Elizabeth Chamblin, the "Song of the Angel," Stephen H. Field, the part of Pilate; James Jomes, the "Words of Jesus," and Talbott Haslett, the part of Judas. A chorus of 36 voices will support the soloists. During the offertory Miss Grace Powell, violinist, will play "He Was Despised," from the Messiah. The program is under the direction of Sherman B. Fowler, organist.

The Alexandria Chamber of Commerce has named the following delegates to the annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce to be held in Atlantic City, April 28 to May 1, inclusive: Frank W. Noxon, Harry Hammond, C. Page Waller and Dan S. Hollenga. Substitute delegates are J. William May, L. H. Dudley, F. C. Goodnow and Benedict Weil.

Members of Relief Company, No. 1, Alexandria Fire Department, have offered to fix up a room in the new Alexandria Children's Home and Day Nursery at 411 Prince street, when the home is moved into the new location. The present home at 316 Prince street is directly across the street from the engine house, and members of the company have been particularly kind to the children ever since the establishment of the institution.

The Alexandria United Charities requests all persons patronizing stores where baskets are placed by that organization to continue purchasing provisions for the needy and place in the baskets, as the demands upon that organization continue and all merchants are urged to keep the baskets displayed in a prominent place. Any merchant who has not a basket in his store is asked to phone the charities headquarters in the City Hall Building and one will be provided.

Dr. Robert South Barrett, chairman of the good of the order committee of the national organization of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will join the exalted ruler of the Richmond Lodge, J. A. Kline, at the Washington-Hoover Airport today at 4:40 p. m. to meet Lawrence H. Rupp, of Allentown, Pa., grand exalted ruler, and to accompany him to Richmond for a special visit to the lodge in that city tonight when a class of 200 will be initiated.

A tract of land containing 7 acres with more than 300,000 square feet, located in Rosemont, east of the electric railroad tracks, will be offered the city council for park purposes only for the sum of $16,000 by the owners on Thursday afternoon, it was stated yesterday. The land is owned by the Washington Suburban Homes Co., Inc. It is expected that the city council will consider the matter at the meeting of that body on Thursday.

Alexandria Post, No. 24, American Legion, is conducting an active membership drive, with the objective of winning the Department of Virginia membership trophy for the third consecutive year, in which event it becomes the permanent property of the post. The membership committee is William H. Meeks, chairman; Clyde B. Lanham, P. Clinton Knight, Sidney Weil, Jones Cox, Charles W. King, Richard M. Green, jr., George F. Downham, Marc Freeman, Joseph Fagelson, Ross Walker and Howard L. Arnold.

An alarm of fire shortly after 7 o'clock last night was occasioned by a burning chimney at the residence of Mrs. C. P. Taylor, 1016 Prince street.

The Rev. Hugh McPadden and E. A. Sweeley will be in charge of the program at the meeting of the Rotary Club today at 12:30 o'clock at the George Mason Hotel. Members will be given the details of the new Children's Home and Day Nursery, which is sponsored by the Rotary Club. The "On-to-Norfolk" committee will report also at this meeting. The State Rotary convention will be held in Norfolk May 6 to 8, inclusive.

Mrs. Sarah Watts Johnston, widow of Col. Samuel R. Johnston, died yesterday in Pulaski, Va., and the commitment services will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Presbyterian Cemetery, this city.

The funeral of Mrs. Dell C. Moran, aged 77 years, who died in Washington on Saturday last, will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Deal Funeral Home, 816 H street northeast, Washington, and burial will be in Bethel Cemetery, this city.

B. & O. to Retain Employes in Plan

Railroad to Keep Number of Workers by Cutting Half-Days a Week.

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, March 30.—With a view to avoiding necessity of the strict application of the seniority rules, which would result in a decrease in the number of employes in the accounting, claim, and other similar departments of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. here, an understanding has been reached with the representatives of the employes whereby, effective Saturday, the number of employes will not be materially decreased as the curtailment of traffic calls for less service.

These particular employes, instead of working the customary five and a half-day period, will be assured steady employment five days a week.

This curtailment of one-half a day's service a week, it is expected, will be temporary. It applies to about 1,500 employes. This arrangement constitutes a definite contribution to the unemployment situation by the old employes who, under the seniority rules, would be entitled to full time, even though the curtailment in activities would call for material reduction in the forces.

SIX CHILDREN FREED IN RAID AT CHEVERLY

Sullivan and Dohm Youths, However, to Await Action of Police Court.

Six high school children taken in a raid on a house in Cheverly last Tuesday were released yesterday following a hearing held before Judge Retta D. Morris, in Hyattsville. Two youths, one of them taken in the raid and one arrested later, were held for action of the police court.

Michael Sullivan, jr., at whose home the raid was made, is charged with harboring children absent unlawfully from school, and John Dohm is held on charges that he induced the children to remain away from school These are misdemeanors under Maryland law. Neither of the boys held are students in the school.

The hearing was held in Judge Morris' office and was closed to newspapermen, although much that went on was audible outside. Alan Bowie, county prosecutor, expressed his disapproval of the manner in which certain newspapers handled the story.

Attorney John S. White, who appeared for Dohm, asked that the charges be dismissed, as Dohm had only transported the children, three girls and three boys, to the Sullivan home. The warrant against Dohm was sworn out by Nicholas Orem, superintendent of schools, while the charges against young Sullivan were made by W. H. White, principal of the school.

Parents of the children involved criticized the actions of White as well as Judge Morris' action in ordering the children held in the Bladensburg Jail. Testimony at the hearing was to the effect that the children were dancing when policemen arrived.
